

Conditions Set for Freeze Proposal Favored by Thant

President's Message Seen As Conditional Acceptance

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is reported ready to tell U Thant, acting secretary general of the United Nations, that he could accept the Burmese diplomat's plea for a two week freeze of the Cuban blockade only under certain conditions.

Authoritative sources said Kennedy's reply could be termed a conditional acceptance, or at least not a complete turnaround.

The White House said shortly after noon that Kennedy's reply to Thant would be delivered to the U.S. mission at the United Nations this afternoon.

There had been earlier reports the reply already was in the hands of U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said no decision had been reached as to whether it would be made public.

Salinger declined to say directly whether there had been any further exchange of messages between Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Conditions Not Listed

Informants said Kennedy welcomed U Thant's motives in asking Russia to stop sending war materiel to Cuba and asking this country to suspend its quarantine of Cuba for two weeks.

State Department officials declined to spell out the conditions Kennedy made in his proposed message to U Thant, but they have been reminded that they confirmed that the President may be asked to drop their insistence on the necessity of getting try jobs and assume federal certain guarantees before even considering the secretary general's suggestion.

Kennedy is also reported to be restating in the message the whole problem of Soviet missiles already in Cuba. U Thant suggested in his letter that the United States should avoid this question, dealing only with further Soviet bloc deliveries to Cuba.

The U Thant request, officials here stressed, is not being turned down. They conceded, however, that the conditions Kennedy will make in his reply are stringent.

The State Department had no information on whether Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has already replied to the U Thant message addressed to him.

Before the Kennedy response was drafted, there was consultation with Stevenson in New York, officials said.

5 Steel Firms' Officials Fined In Price Fixing

NEW YORK (AP)—Five steel corporation executives were fined a total of $44,000 today on their pleas of no contest to charges of conspiracy to fix prices and rig bids in steel sales.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan refused simultaneously to accept like pleas from four steel companies and a trade association named defendants in the same indictment.

The individuals and their fines: Homer Lackey, president of Erie Forge & Steel Corp., Erie, Pa., $5,000.

Emil Lang, board chairman of Erie Forge & Steel, $10,000.

R.B. Heppenstall Sr., president of Midvale-Heppenstall Co., Philadelphia, $20,000.

Erh Gurney, manager of Bethlehem Steel Co. sales, forges castings and special products division, Bethlehem, Pa., $7,500.

Robert S. Barnes, assistant manager of that division, $1,500.

Home Front Defense Plans Modernized

Brought Up to Date To Prepare for Possible Attack

BY STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Home-front mobilization plans have been dusted off and brought up to date for use in event of a Soviet nuclear assault or a shooting war, the Office of Emergency Planning said today.

OEP Director Edward A. McDermott has been checking the readiness of all agencies with emergency responsibilities, including their preparedness to move into secret relocation centers in non-target areas, a spokesman said.

Some 40 agencies, including the White House, have designated key personnel to speed to 93 prearranged sites within a 300-mile range of Washington. Of these, more than 50 are manned continually.

Emergency Posts

The OEP said also that members of the 2,800-man "executive reserve" across the country, all Kennedy made in his proposed message to U Thant, but they have been reminded that they confirmed that the President may be asked to drop their insistence on the necessity of getting try jobs and assume federal certain guarantees before even considering the secretary general's suggestion.

They would become administrators of price, wage and rationing controls, rent ceilings, priorities and allocation of critical materials. Each of these executives pledged when he left Washington service to come back if and when an emergency call went out.

About 1,000 of the reservists were in Washington for a periodic briefing last Monday, when the Cuban crisis broke wide open with President Kennedy's announcement of a naval arms blockade.

McDermott told them they would play "a crucial role in meeting the myriad of problems that would confront us in a post attack period." The possibility Washington would be destroyed, or cut off from "islands of survival," in a nation ravaged by nuclear blasts and fallout, makes the problem of planning national survival more difficult than in World War II, he said. Investigators Find No Appeasement in Speech Censorship

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators said today they found ineptness and capriciousness in censorship of military speeches.

They also said that while the troop information program can be improved, their extensive probe did not turn up any evidence that "it is approached with a soft on communism" attitude or policy.

The report was filed by a special subcommittee headed by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss. It took more than 25 million words of testimony between last January and June.

A 157-page dissent was submitted by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., who touched off the investigation with charges that military leaders were being muzzled in their anti-Communist statements and education programs.

Russian Tanker Halted But Continues Voyage

Carrying Signs That Read "To Hell With Fidel," an estimated 400 youths staged a demonstration on the campus of Marquette University near the Milwaukee downtown district Wednesday night. The group also carried an effigy of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro. The marchers dispersed on orders of the Rev. Floyd L. Stanton, Marquette vice president in charge of student affairs, who warned of disciplinary action. There were no arrests. (AP Wirephoto)

Petroleum Found to be Only Cargo

WASHINGTON (AP)—A blockade U.S. Navy ship today intercepted a Soviet tanker but allowed it to continue toward Cuba. The Pentagon said a dozen other Soviet ships apparently turned back for fear of running into the U.S. ban on Cuban arms shipments.

Thus there still was no direct U.S.-Soviet showdown or war-provoking incident, in Cuban waters as the U.S. quarantine of the island went into its second day.

Apparently, the tanker was not boarded by the Navy. The Pentagon said only that it was ascertained not to be carrying contraband weapons.

Washington informants said the tanker was hailed by the Navy ship and questioned about its cargo. The tanker captain said he carried only petroleum. Since the tanker had left its Communist port long before the blockade was announced Monday, and there was no known evidence that tankers had been used to carry weapons, these sources said the ship was allowed to proceed.

Diplomacy Involved

The Navy's forbearance in not boarding the tanker, the informants said, was aimed at getting across to Soviet Premier Khrushchev that the United States was not in Cuban waters with a chip on its shoulder looking for a fight.

Viewed in this light the incident appeared to be a significant part of the current diplomatic interchange comparable in some respects to Khrushchev's decision not to force the issue by sending through the blockade vessels certain to be stopped, turned back or sunk.

The Washington view was that both the turnabout of some Soviet ships, and the free passage of the tanker, would have a profound bearing on intense efforts at the United Nations and elsewhere to develop some kind of formula to pull the U.S.-Soviet confrontation over Cuba back from the edge of nuclear war.

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense read this announcement.

"It now appears that at least a dozen Soviet vessels have turned back, presumably because according to the best of our information, they might have been carrying offensive materials."

Only Petroleum Aboard

"However, the first Russian ship that proceeded through the area patrolled by our naval forces was a Soviet tanker."

"It was ascertained by the U.S. naval vessel which intercepted her that the tanker had only petroleum aboard."

"Since petroleum is not presently included as prohibited material, under President Kennedy's proclamation setting up the quarantine, the tanker was allowed to proceed."

"The Navy satisfied itself that no prohibited material was aboard this particular ship."

"The encounter took place shortly before 8 o'clock, day light time today."

No Added Details

Sylvester said he could not provide any further details at this time.

The Pentagon announcement came after a similar report from Rep. James Van Zandt, R-Pa., who attended a State Department regional briefing in New York for congressmen and governors of 11 northeastern states.

President Kennedy was reported holding the door open for a crisis conference with Soviet Premier Khrushchev if the right conditions develop.

But U.S. officials stressed that

Nobel Prize For Steinbeck

Sixth American to Receive Coveted Literature Award

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — John Steinbeck won the 1962 Nobel Prize for literature today.

The 60-year-old California-born author, who rose to fame with his novel "The Grapes of Wrath," is the sixth American to win the literary award—this year worth $49,656.

For 30 years, Steinbeck has been turning out best sellers—many became prize-winning stage plays and films—and gained a reputation as a chronicler of social justice in the United States.

His writings in recent years showed a versatility that emerged in his latest book, "Travels with Charley," an off-whimsical story of U.S. travels with his dog Charley.

Steinbeck, author of 27 books was cited by the prize committee "for his at one and the same time realistic and imaginative writings, distinguished as they are by a sympathetic humor and a social perception."

Steinbeck heard about the award at his home in Sag Harbor, N.Y. His wife told reporters it was "a great thrill" for him.

Other American winners of the Nobel Prize for literature were Sinclair Lewis, Eugene O'Neill, Pearl Buck, William Faulkner, and Ernest Hemingway.

Thomas Stearns Eliot, American-born, also won the award but after becoming a British subject.

Reds Capture Town in India

Chinese Troops Continue Advance In Most Regions

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Chinese Communists have captured the important northeast Indian town of Towang, a Defense Ministry spokesman announced today.

Towang lies on the old India-Tibet trade route between the Tibetan and Bhutan borders about 80 miles north northwest of Udaigiri.

The spokesman announced that Towang fell after bitter fighting Wednesday. Chinese Communist troops are advancing in most areas, he added.

Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon was coming under mounting fire because of the ineffectiveness of Indian resistance on the frontier. Prime Minister Nehru was reported to be defending him.

Leading newspapers joined senior members of the Congress party in the attacks on Nehru's closest associate. Some Congress members demanded Menon's resignation.

"It looks as if someone is spreading a ceremonial red carpet for the advancing Red Chinese along the entire northeast frontier," said one party leader who with 29 others criticized Menon severely in a meeting with Nehru Tuesday.

The government meanwhile admitted steady Chinese advances all along the northeast boundary, as much as 37 miles in some areas and indicated the Communists had captured most of their objectives in the disputed area in the northwest, the Ladakh sector of Kashmir.

Congress party critics charged Menon "kept us in the dark by painting a rosy picture of our eastern defenses."

"In no place has the Indian army held ground since the massive Chinese assault began on Saturday, and every day it is the same tale of so many pockets falling to the advancing enemy," one of them said.

Car-Train Crash Kills Milwaukee Resident

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A car-train crash in Waukesha County has taken the life of a Milwaukee woman traveling with her mother and two sisters. The death raised Wisconsin's highway toll for the year to 754, compared with 723 a year ago today.

Mrs. Lois Ball, 42, was killed Wednesday night and her mother and two sisters injured when a car driven by one of the sisters and a Milwaukee Road passenger train collided in Pewaukee.

The four women, all of Milwaukee, were returning from a visit with relatives at Wisconsin Dells. Their new car showed only 500 miles.

Tries to Avoid Clash

Khrushchev Takes Cautious Course

MOSCOW (AP)—Some Western diplomats saw Premier Khrushchev's proposal for a summit conference today as evidence he is guiding the Soviet Union on a cautious course in the Cuban crisis.

They expressed a belief that his suggestion indicates he wants to avert a head-on collision with the United States.

In a message Wednesday to Lord Bertrand Russell, the British philosopher, Khrushchev put the summit proposal this way:

"The question of war and peace is so vital that we should consider useful a top-level meeting in order to discuss all problems which have arisen, to do everything possible to remove the danger of unleashing a thermonuclear war."

Denounces U. S. While denouncing the U.S. blockade of arms shipments to Cuba as "piratical," Khrushchev ignored the reason President Kennedy announced for the Cuban quarantine—the establishment of Soviet-built missile bases in Cuba.

Moscow insists all arms sent to Cuba are defensive. And it never has admitted missiles are among the weapons. But perhaps significantly, a Soviet Embassy official in London said no nuclear warheads were among arms sent to Cuba.

Russell, in a message, urged the Soviet leader "not to be provoked by the unjustifiable action-aggression" by stepping up the U.S. in Cuba. The Briton productivity of East Germany's economy.

ing on the difference in American and Russian motives.

Its editorial page today was heavily adorned with letters to the editor demanding to know how the United States, with bases in Turkey, dared to complain against the establishment of Russian bases in Cuba.

Three of the letters advocated abandonment of the American submarine servicing station at Holy Loch, Scotland, presumably in order to placate Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Polaris carrying submarines using Holy Loch now constitute the main assurance that the United States would possess a second strike capability in case of a surprise Russian nuclear attack.

Many Letters

The Guardian, one of the world's great newspapers in the guarantee of Liberal supremacy in this country, has supported such an arrangement as it might support a horro trade between two potentates without dwelling on the difference in American and Russian motives.

The Daily Herald, which pre-sents the Labor party line on most matters, supported its plea for abandonment of American bases with a column by Walter Lippmann in which he pointed out that Russian bases in Cuba were defenseless and American bases in Turkey were practically obsolete and urged that the United States try negotiation on that basis. Its version of Lippmann's original column was labeled "Abridged."

What Is "Defensive"?

The Daily Herald's own editorial contained the statement that "if the American nuclear bases are defensive, then Cuba's Fidel Castro can claim that so are his."

The Communist Daily Worker was more Russian than the Russians when it came out this morning with the contention that Russian bases in Cuba were designed purely for anti-aircraft missiles.

Paraders in Milwaukee Assail Castro

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Parading behind an effigy of Cuban Dictator Fidel Castro and chanting "To hell with Fidel," a crowd of 400 youths demonstrated near Marquette University Wednesday night.

The demonstration came to the attention of police as it neared Brooks Memorial Union where a United Nations Day forum was in progress.

Responding to police orders, the throng then marched four blocks down Wisconsin Avenue the city's main street.

Father Floyd L. Stanton, Marquette vice president in charge of student affairs, rushed into the ranks of the marchers and ordered students to their dormitories.

Those carrying the Castro dummy and signs reading "MU backs Jack" circled the block to encounter police trying to keep the crowd moving.

Father Stanton moved into the crowd again, saying "You're not doing any good for Marquette. He demanded identifications grabbed at signs and finally used a police loudspeaker to warn of university discipline.

Some of the demonstrators were from Marquette, but others stopped for identification said they came from other schools after hearing a demonstration was planned. There were no arrests.

Home Front Plans Being Modernized

mayors and county officials would suddenly become economic czars. McDermott did not go into details, but his agency—a small unit in the executive office of the President—would become virtual dictator of home-front mobilization in a war emergency.

The bulky "National Plan for Civil Defense and Defense Mobilization," continuously reviewed and updated since the Korean War, envisages several degrees of emergency and prescribes different measures for each.

"Plan C," for instance, is for use in a limited war in which U.S. forces are fighting overseas with increasing threat of attack on this continent. It could bring a gradual imposition of anti-inflation and materials controls like those of the Korean War—consumer credit restrictions, price ceilings, wage stabilization and allocations of materials to defense industry.

"Plan D-Minus" is for use in event of a devastating assault on U.S. military and industrial targets. It assumes tens of millions dead and injured, great cities reduced to rubble, and spreading clouds of fallout covering 75 to 80 per cent of the land area.

"Freeze" Indicated

Presumably before the missiles or bombs were even well under way, a national emergency would official be declared. Without waiting for congressional action, the President would freeze prices and wages, authorize rationing, establish censorship, clamp emergency controls on manpower, and authorize a vast relief, rescue and refugee program.

Local and state authorities would take charge of rationing.

food, fuel and clothing—and enforce federal as well as state laws—until the lines of federal authority were restored.

The general freeze order from the White House, drafted long ago and distributed to pre-planned control points on a standby basis, prohibits for at least five days all sales of food, gasoline, fuel oil and many consumer items except for the most essential purposes. Perishable foodstuffs would be exempt from the freeze.

Flexible Program

This freeze could be extended or lifted locally as conditions improved. In some areas, however, it is estimated that it might take 30 to 60 days to restore central federal control.

There is no plan for martial law, OEP officials emphasize. The national plan envisages civilian control of the country and its armed forces, even if Washington is destroyed and the President is conducting the nation's affairs from an underground White House or from a submarine at sea.

Elaborate preparations have been made to keep the economy functioning so the country can survive, fight and win. The preparations include even stores of money, long ago cached in safe places, to be distributed wherever banking services are wiped out.

A moratorium on repayment of debts is also planned. But an OEP official has acknowledged that "we do not envisage a money economy in the heavily damaged areas." That means, in effect, that survivors will exist on a dole of the available food, fuel, medicine, clothing and other bare necessities of life.

Agriculture Department officials conferred Wednesday on conserving food in the event of an emergency.

An official said the department was preparing instructions for state and county agriculture stabilization and conservation committee groups which would outline steps to place counties in a state of alert.

Comeuppance for Krishna

It's a little hard for a lot of Americans and probably Britons not to gloat a bit about Krishna Menon's discomfiture. Menon has suddenly become irate over the Red Chinese attacks upon Indian territory and swears that many Chinese will die for every Indian. The suspicion remains that had Menon not tried so hard to appease his Communist neighbors there might not be a war going on at all.

As a non-aligned nation India has not been eligible for United States military aid although it accepts economic aid with alacrity. Then as Nehru began worrying over the growing encroachments of the Chinese, their redrawing of the map of Asia and point-blank refusal to get out of the occupied territories which India also claims, overtures were made to the Soviet Union. A few big planes were supplied but the Indians now are reportedly unhappy over the inadequacy of the Russian planes for ferrying troops to the high Himalayas.

And so there have been some back door negotiations in attempts to acquire United States aircraft and we presume they will become available no matter what official position India takes regarding the cold war. Obviously we are not in favor of the conquest of India by the Red Chinese and, despite some appalling blindness, India remains one of the best grounds for the growth of democracy in Asia.

The disillusionment with the Communist Chinese has been developing in India over a number of years. Perhaps it was first expressed by the Indian officers who presided over the exchange negotiations at Panmunjom after the Korean war truce. Then Indian observers in China noticed that the "great leap forward" meant a lot of individual oppression and not much economic growth either. The conquest of Tibet alarmed practically everyone except Menon who still looked to the West as the great potential danger to Indian peace and freedom.

Menon has not related the Chinese aggression to the drive of the Soviet Union for world power. We can continue to expect words from India suggesting appeasement over Berlin and unilateral nuclear bans. But somehow it may be that a lot of Indians, including Menon's superiors, won't pay much attention to his warnings and views of alarm. He has been shown up as a captive of his own blind prejudices and he has endangered his country because of them.

Congratulations Nebraska

The State of Nebraska deserves heaps of credit for the fine job it is doing to try to help solve its own and the nation's problems with surplus agricultural products.

That state financed, with taxes, a research project at the Institute of Paper Chemistry here, which resulted in finding a new market for 16.3 million bushels of corn each year.

The refined corn flour or starch will be used as an adhesive in the pulp and paper industry.

Nebraska is not stopping there. It has another $76,000 contract with the institute to find uses for wheat flour in paper production.

There is an old adage that says necessity is the mother of many things. Nebraska saw the necessity, formed a plan of action and has gotten itself some very good results.

If every state was as farsighted and dynamic in its approach to the surplus food problems as Nebraska we would venture to say that problems facing agriculture today would dwindle to almost nil.

Wisconsin could well afford to take a long, hard look at the Nebraska approach. Our state's dairy surpluses might have dozens of potential uses in industry the world over.

Private industry spends millions for research every year. Generally, the primary aim of such research is to try to manufacture a better product more economically. It isn't particularly concerned with developing a market for a specific raw material. Sometimes that happens as a side effect.

Therefore, it seems entirely proper for a governmental unit, such as at the state level, to finance research that will lead to new markets for its raw materials. Nebraska's agricultural research fund is a fine example.

Talent (?) Fees

In general we have approved of the efforts of the State Department to effect cultural exchanges with people of remote lands. The more that other peoples can learn about us, we can hope, the more chance there is for understanding and co-operation. But the screening of some of the programs needs a review. And so most definitely do the salaries.

Representative William Widnall of New Jersey last month presented a resolution to Congress that would limit the salaries paid to the individuals on tour in various lands to $425 a week. Mr. Widnall explained that this was approximately an average of what is paid to cabinet members, generals, admirals, the vice president and judges of federal courts. The resolution was defeated, but the State Department at least has suspended the hiring of new people for the exchanges until a current negative investigation is completed.

Criticism of the program reached a height last summer when so-called comedian Joey Adams had a fight in Bangkok. It turned out that Adams was being paid $1,200 a week for the tour and that his wife picked up some more cash by writing a series of articles for a newspaper in which she criticized the people of some of the lands they visited. The joke in these episodes was definitely on the American taxpayer.

Certainly there must be capable entertainers who are willing to take a foreign tour for the same salary which Secretary of State Rusk receives. We must question whether an entertainer, no matter how excellent in histrionic ability, ought to represent the United States in other countries if he hasn't the good taste to turn down the ridiculously high salaries and consider his tour at least in part a matter of good citizenship.

Looking Backward

Motor View on Hastings Letter

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Oct. 30, 1962.

Treasurer Hastings has written a notable letter, conclusively proving that the defeat of the bill for the immediate relief of the families of volunteers was a "Democratic triumph" in the State Assembly.

The necessity for the letter, however, in our opinion was a little doubtful in view of the fact that nearly every Democratic paper in Wisconsin has had the cold-blooded impudence to defend the killing of that humane and patriotic measure.

The Appleton Crescent, for instance, true to its instincts, justified the noble operation on the false and contemptible ground that the State would be in danger of losing some money by an imaginary depreciation of the bonds proposed to be issued.

If this climax of party business shall ever be fully exposed in its true, detestable character, we venture the prediction that the only motive that induced Democratic members to inflict so cruel an outrage upon the helpless and suffering families of our brave volunteers was a cowardly partisan spite.

If the rank and file of the Democratic party in Outagamie County can swallow such a party dose, we have no objections!

Edison Co. Started With $300,000 and One Brain

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

Thomas A. Edison, a man of great loyalties who lived to the age of 84, always pointed back to Oct. 24, 1878.

On that day 13 men who believed in him delivered to the New York county clerk's office, the incorporation papers for the Edison Electric Light Company. They (and he) were risking $300,000 in an enterprise that had as its only real asset his 31-year-old brain. The risk changed the world.

This brain, alive and humming with imagination, was searching for a filament that could glow brightly in a glass bulb when electricity coursed through it, a problem of discovery buried deep in the mystery of electric incandescence.

IMPOSSIBLE, OTHERS SAID

Edison had been thinking about such a filament for years. No suitable material, others said could be found. By usual theories none could exist that was cheap enough to put such a light into practical use.

Edison's theories were different. And he found the practical filament, not in some unknown and precious metal but in his imagination and in the cotton fields of the South.

One year after the incorporation, less four days, Edison demonstrated the first practical incandescent lamp ever to glow. He was still only 31. His success was acknowledged when his bulb, containing a loop of carbonized cotton thread, burned brightly and continuously for more than 40 hours.

Of Edison's 1,097 patents, the largest number the U. S. Patent Office ever granted an individual, 360 dealt with the hidden needs behind the glow in that light lamp that could light the world and take up the task against darkness where the sun left off.

While his wide mind and marvelous imagination overcame scientific difficulties, he himself always emphasized that it was the cooperation, vitality and risk-taking willingness of helpers that changed ideas into performance. This included incurring the losses.

Eleven years after the light's success Edison set out to devise a system of mining and milling low-grade iron ore that would be economically sound. His supporters stayed with him. Through ceaseless effort and what was then the enormous expenditure of $3 million Edison invented and put into operation a revolutionary method of ore reclamation and refinement. It was called the magnetic ore separator.

The undertaking did not work. After six heartbreaking years Edison and his backers were left with a monumental failure.

The story of the Edison Electric Light Co. is of particular interest in the Fox Cities area. The Appleton Edison Light Co. was formed in 1882 by four men who saw a unique, parallel opportunity in Edison's plan to produce electricity from steam power.

The four — H. J. Rogers, paper mill owner; A. L. Smith, personal friend of Edison; H. D. Smith, blast furnace owner; and banker Charles Beveridge — decided to harness the powerful Fox River and produce electricity from water power with Edison's "K" type dynamos. This they did on Sept. 30, 1882, when the world's first hydroelectric plant began operating in Rogers' Appleton Paper Mill near the upper dam, lighting that mill, the Vulcan Paper Mill and Rogers' new residence here. This occurred only 26 days after Edison's Pearl Street steam station went into operation in New York City.

The home built by Rogers still stands as a historic landmark of this Appleton "first" on the southeast corner of W. Prospect Avenue and South Memorial Drive. It was later known as the A. W. Priest home and today is owned and occupied by Mrs. Eugene L. Pierce.

New, rich ore deposits made it impossible for the method to compete.

THERE'S HAPPY ENDING

But, there's a happier ending to this example of how losses are a part of our progress, even when an enterprise has a Thomas Edison in it. Instead of being discouraged and accepting failure, the conscientious man re-designed the machinery and racked his brain for new approaches, new ideas, new experiments to utilize it. And one reason so much is written about how little Edison slept is because, in fact, for many years he could not sleep.

At last Edison substituted the making of cement. Perhaps it's hardly realized on this anniversary of his first great victory with the electric light that, by his subsequent great failure, Edison revolutionized the Portland cement industry in our country and turned disaster into success.

There is no substitute for the individual. Yet, no man or business — even an Edison — is an island. We live in a cooperative commonwealth. No matter what our condition of life, each of us rides in a car pushed forward by the talents, risks, struggles and achievements of others. And when you see the lights of the world, or the concrete of broad highways, tall buildings and vast dams, you are looking at the car built by a very great American indeed.

Goldwater's Views on Integration Outlined

Editor, Post-Crescent

The Democratic candidate for governor, John Reynolds, has said that he is "shocked" by the public support given to Gov. Barnett by Sen. Barry Goldwater. The following paragraph from "Conscience of a Conservative," written by Barry Goldwater, explicitly explains why he favors Gov. Barnett and others who hold his views.

"I believe that it is both wise and just for negroes to attend the same schools as whites, and that to deny them this opportunity carries with it strong implications of inferiority. I am not prepared, however, to impose that judgment of mine on the people of Miss. or to tell them what methods should be adopted and what pace should be kept in striving toward that goal. That is their business not mine. I believe that the problem of race relations, like all social and cultural problems, is best handled by the people directly concerned. Social and cultural change, however desirable, should not be effected by the engines of national power. Let us, through persuasion and education seek to improve institutions we deem defective. But let us, in doing so, respect the orderly process of the law. Any other course enthrones tyrants and dooms freedom."

Another Problem for Mr. Kennedy: Mail Service by Pigeon

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON, Wis. — Dear Mr. President:

This is written after some hesitation. I know you are busy with worries of your own, with Castro and DeGaulle and Krushchev and Tshombe and the others, not to mention Nixon, Brown and Meredith and Barnett and Rockefeller and Teddy.

But I thought you might not object if I told you of one of the problems of my own with which you might be able to help.

You see, it's like this. I'm proud of the astronauts and I'll cheer when we reach the moon. But I wish in the meantime we'd learn how to deliver the mail.

I'm not quite sure how landing a man on the moon is going to help me in my business, but I'm willing to go along, on your judgment I'm quite sure, however, that if your postoffice department could bring me a piece of mail posted 100 miles away in less than 48 hours it would be of some immediate benefit to me.

Wyngaard

THE HEAD MAN

I've discussed this with your men up and down the line, mail superintendents, postmasters, regional postal supervisors, the post-master general, members of the Congress and others. I don't seem to be getting anywhere and so I thought I'd mention it to the boss.

Some years ago I worked for a newspaper editor who was something of a curmudgeon, although he wouldn't have liked the fancy word. He was a good teacher, but short-tempered. I can hear him saying now, after he'd called me down about something: "And another thing, that story last night on which you wasted my time — you should have sent it by canal boat."

I wish he were here now to describe to you the leisurely inefficiency of your postoffice service. I bring it up because it strikes me that canal boats could deliver some of my mail more quickly than Mr. Day's outfit can — or does.

When I was a boy I lived in a town where there were passenger pigeon fanciers. To them racing pigeons was a sport. Modern communications had long since removed the pigeon from economic competition. But I've wondered lately whether a couple of pigeons might not make the route of 100 miles more quickly and regularly than your postal service. Perhaps a squab, ambitious and healthy? Or a college hitch-hiker might take on mail service as a sideline? A lot of possibilities occur to me.

CELEBRATION?

For the last couple of months the postoffice men I know have been watching with great interest the decision of the Congress and yourself on the postal rate increase, and the pay raise for the postal employees that was contained in the bill. You signed the bill the other day. Now I'll pay more, and they'll get more.

There was a curious side effect though, as my experience went. My mail was slowed up even more visibly after that act was signed. Maybe the boys were celebrating?

I mean to make no partisan point in this gentle complaint. The service started to slide, indeed, during the Eisenhower term. It was good under Harry Truman, as I remember it. Maybe we ought to start putting politicians in the postoffices again, men who know how to please their constituents and who are willing to try to do so. Or maybe one of your other agencies could look into the matter—one of the redevelopment agencies.

I sat in the Los Angeles coliseum the night two years ago when you made one of the speeches that has been quoted so much. How does it go? Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country? Maybe you could find a couple of copies and send them to a couple of postmasters I know — you have the franking privilege.

Strictly Personal

Strongest Man Will Admit to Weakness

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Purely Personal Prejudices

Most people use charity not as an enhancement of justice, but as a substitute for it; they are willing to help the afflicted and the unfortunate after the event, but remain supremely indifferent to the causes of suffering and the prompt taking of preventive measures.

Pious people invariably assume God has no sense of humor — when all one has to do is regard the panda, the lobster, the kangaroo and the operatic tenor to see the sense of comedy involved in His creation.

The men who crack most easily are those who are afraid to expose what they consider a "weakness" — who feel they must always seem strong and decisive and self-assured, even when the occasion calls for doubt and deliberation. To be really strong means having the surplus strength to admit a weakness — just as the truly brave man frankly confronts his fear.

A person who insists that he listens "to both sides of the question" fails to add that he listens to each side in a quite different manner: with his ears critically cocked to the side he tends against, and with his ears flopping pleasantly to the side he tends to favor.

Everybody is against selfishness — usually for the most selfish reasons.

Harris

Returning each fall from a vacation in a tiny village, I am each year more inclined to agree with Kin Hubbard's sly remark that "there isn't much to be seen in a little town, but what you hear makes up for it."

One of the most curious and unexplained phenomena is the fact that if you hear a new word for the first time, you are bound to hear it again in a day or two; likewise, if the name of a person or rare disease, comes up you will run across the name again soon.

The man who mutters that "90 per cent of modern art is trash" forgets that 90 per cent of old art was trash, too, but time has winnowed out the bulk of it, indeed, it might justly be said that 90 per cent of all art (whether painting, writing, or music) is trash and eventually forgotten.

Worries cannot be willed away by consciously refusing to acknowledge them — they must be pulled up by the roots and examined in the light, not pushed down deeper into the unconscious, where they only do darker mischief by disguising themselves in some bizarre manner.

As the striking power of both sides increases in this cold war, it becomes more likely that the war will turn hot; for, as the British physicist and Nobel Prize winner, P. M. S. Blackett, has observed: "Once a nation pledges its safety to an absolute weapon, it becomes emotionally essential to believe in an absolute enemy."

(Copyright 1962)

Potomac Fever — by Fletcher Knebel

The "colds" which fetched Kennedy and Johnson back to Washington are medicine's newest diplomatic discovery — the uncommon cold.

Actually this national emergency should have been handled by the Agriculture Department — since it's primarily a question of pest control.

Russia finally has some evidence of its old "germ warfare" charges against us — when Kennedy and Johnson came rushing back with "colds."

Speaking of zippers, one fellow says he wishes he had one of those undo-it-yourself wives.

Mother: "Our young man has quite a head on his shoulders." Father: "Yes, he carries a staggering burden."

One trouble with our system is that Washington seldom knows what's going on in the country. Another is that the country never knows what's going on in Washington.

To Your Good Health

Doctor, Not Amateur Should Pierce Ears

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can pierced ears result in blood poisoning? I've been stepped on and the skin ripped while herding a bull in a pen barefoot and didn't get it. I've stepped on rusty nails in the desert and didn't even need a bandage. But my mother says I can't have my ears pierced because I'll get blood poisoning. Is this true? Please hurry your reply.—Jane n.

Do you want to find out about blood poisoning, or having your ears pierced?

I don't recommend stepping on rusty nails, or being stepped on by a bull, because either may (not WILL) open the way for blood poisoning, or tetanus, or infection. Piercing the ears may (not will) cause any of these things, depending on whether dangerous germs happen to enter the wound. I approve of ear piercing only under strictly antiseptic conditions. Maybe I sound like an old fogey to you, and maybe I am, but why don't you respect your mother's wishes at least until you are older? Old enough not to step on rusty nails or be stepped on, barefoot, by bulls. Anyway, the safe way is to have your doctor do the piercing

Dear Dr. Molner: I will be 50 in November. My doctor says my tonsils should be removed. Is there any other treatment besides surgery? I understand that bleeding is a problem in such cases.—S.B.

It's true that there sometimes may be (not necessarily will be) more bleeding in an adult than in a child.

Whatever the reason for this, doctors would rather remove a child's tonsils than an adult's. Therefore they don't tell adults that the tonsils ought to come out unless the need is unmistakable. It's a nuisance, I realize, for a man of 50 to have his tonsils removed, but if they are bad enough to cause the doctor to urge surgery, then I'd have no hesitation in saying yes.

When to Take Vitamins

Dear Dr. Molner: Do vitamins taken independently of food benefit the body, or must they be taken with food to be effective? What about natural or synthetic vitamins?—M.E.G.

Vitamins are complicated chemicals. They are vitally needed, although in but tiny quantities. It doesn't make any difference whether they are taken with or without food. They are naturally present in food. As long as we get these traces of chemicals, that's sufficient, whether they are "natural" or "synthetic." They are the same, chemically, and your body doesn't care. You can also eat steak for breakfast and bacon and eggs for supper if you prefer. The only question is to eat what your body needs.

Salt to Live?

Dear Doctor: Is it possible for a person to live without salt?—G.M.

That's an "iffy" sort of question. If you mean living without the kind of salt you put in a salt-shaker, yes, because most foods, even those we don't consider "salty," have at least a trace of natural salt. Some have quite a bit. There is no such thing as a "salt-free diet." Only a low-salt diet.

An added "iffy" aspect of your question is that if a person lived in a cool climate the year round, and never worked up a sweat, he could get along with less salt than if he worked strenuously in a hot climate. This is because we lose salt rapidly as we perspire, and that's why people in very sweaty jobs, such as working in a foundry, may need salt tablets to ward off collapse from the heat. It's really "collapse from loss of salt."

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes—The Sneaky Disease." Please, enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of handling. (Copyright, 1962) while sticking to his readiness for U.S.-Soviet negotiations. Kennedy's main concern and overriding objective is to put an end to Soviet nuclear missile bases in Cuba.

The President was said to have given most careful consideration to the proposal made Wednesday night by Acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to freeze the crisis for two weeks so that negotiations can proceed. The White House announced the President was replying immediately.

Khrushchev's Letter

A reply to a new note from Khrushchev was said in official quarters to be less urgent. The Soviet premier in a message to British philosopher Bertrand Russell declared Wednesday that he considered a summit meeting useful in order to do everything possible to remove the danger of nuclear war.

But in a letter to Kennedy about the same time, officials here said Khrushchev made no direct bid for a conference and concentrated his remarks on denouncing Kennedy's action Monday night in ordering a quarantine of Cuba.

The quarantine policy of blocking offensive arms shipments to Cuba became effective at 10 o'clock Washington time Wednesday morning. At that hour a total of 23 Communist ships was reported steaming toward Cuba and an inevitable confrontation with the U.S. warships on blockade station unless some intervening action was taken.

Ships Change Course

That action came late Wednesday. The Defense Department announced that some Soviet bloc vessels "appeared to have altered course." Officials said that other vessels—understood to be those more distant from Cuba—were still steaming ahead.

Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., one of the congressional leaders who attended a White House briefing Wednesday, said Wednesday night the Soviet ships that veered away from the blockade apparently did not turn back. He told the Miami Herald in a telephone call from Washington, "It is my understanding that they were sort of rendezvousing, perhaps waiting for instructions."

The Miami News said Wednesday it had learned reliably that Soviet ships en route to Cuba had turned back.

The Washington Post quoted a reliable government source today as saying six Soviet ships nearest Cuba had altered their course but did not turn back. It quoted the official as saying a Polish ship farther back was continuing toward Cuba.

In other developments related to the crisis, Washington officials reported that half of the Latin-American nations had offered some form of help in carrying out the blockade.

The Federal Aviation Agency directed that no civilian planes may fly over the southern half of Florida, the U.S. area nearest Cuba, unless they are operating on approved flight plans and in direct radio contact with air traffic control centers.

Possibly Only Lull

Mobilization plans for the home front were brought up to date for use in the event of a shooting war. Word of the apparent diversion of Soviet ships which could only have been ordered from Moscow coupled with Khrushchev's statement to Russell that the Soviet government would avoid any rash decision and was interested in a summit conference served to lessen somewhat the tense sense of crisis. But authorities here cautioned that it could well be only a lull in the storm, that a confrontation of U.S. warships and Soviet vessels might still occur, and that the central issue of Soviet rocket bases in Cuba remained untouched.

The Defense Department released what it described as undeniable intelligence reports that at least 30 big missiles, more than 20 Soviet-built jet bombers are now in Cuba. New photos of the Cuban missile bases also were made public.

Location of Missiles

Assistant Secretary Arthur Sylvester said eight to 10 missile bases were located near four cities which were identified as Guanajay, Remedios, San Cristobal and Sagua La Grande. Sylvester also said that there are at least 5,000 Soviets in Cuba.

The missiles which the Soviets have been building bases for have been described by defense and State Department spokesmen here as 1,200-mile range mobile missiles and intermediate range weapons with a reach of up to 2,500 miles. The jet bombers have been identified as IL28s.

Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said after the White House briefing for congressional leaders late Wednesday that the evident diversion of Communist ships could mean only that the Soviet government has not yet made a final decision on what to do about the arms blockade of Cuba.

Considering Policy

"We suspect that they are holding off while they consider their course," Fulbright said.

There were 20 congressional leaders in the group which received a report from Kennedy, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Central Intelligence chief John McCone participated in the session.

Talk about a possible invasion

Janet Hose, who said she is a college student, holds a sign reading "Better Dead Than Red" as she and other students jeer demonstrators on the other side of the street who protested U. S. policy on Cuba. The demonstrations took place in downtown Atlanta Wednesday. There was no violence as police kept people on the move. (AP Wirephoto) secure American agreement to your proposal."

Then the 90-year-old philosopher, who in recent years has been campaigning to abolish nuclear weapons, sent another message to Kennedy. He urged the President to make a conciliatory response to Khrushchev.

There was no indication from Washington, however, that the President is in a hurry to meet Khrushchev. One Washington source said no conclusion should be drawn from the premier's words until it is known how Soviet ships meet the U.S. naval blockade.

Khrushchev's message to Russell contained no hint that he will submit to the U.S. blockade.

No Reckless Action

However, the premier told Russell the Soviet Union will make no reckless decisions and will not be provoked by unwarranted actions of the United States."

Khrushchev coupled this with talk of nuclear war and a call for the United States to lift the Cuban quarantine.

Moscow newspapers this morning headlined Khrushchev's message to Russell, accompanying the story with threats and denunciation of "American imperialism."

Krasnaya Zvezda (Red Star), the defense ministry newspaper, declared: "The Soviet people are ready to render Cuba any necessary aid and support. And it is not the business of American imperialists to point out what this aid should be."

"It is time for the United States leaders to understand that the times when Yankees plundered and punished in the Western Hemisphere have become part of the distant past."

The trade union newspaper Trud echoed Khrushchev's assertion that Washington was motivated by hatred of the Cuban people.

Director Says State Colleges Losing Fight For Good Teachers

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin's director of state colleges, Eugene R. McPhee, says the nine-schools system is fighting a losing battle for "highly competent" teachers.

In a statement today, McPhee said the colleges employed 285 new faculty members this fall but that only 47 have doctoral degrees.

"Only a year or two ago," McPhee said, "most of the state colleges were at or above the national average of 37 per cent doctorates on the faculty, but that situation no longer is true today."

McPhee explained that teachers holding doctoral degrees are in short supply and that the Wisconsin system faces strong competition for faculty from other institutions of higher learning, and from industry and government where higher salaries often are offered.

"This fall we lost 135 faculty members for various reasons, but at least 41 of them took more favorable teaching positions elsewhere," McPhee said.

Forecast High Vote in November

MADISON (AP) — A forecast that the Nov. 6 elections will attract about 1,250,000 Wisconsin voters, or 53 per cent of the electorate, was made Wednesday by Gaige Roberts, head of the State Elections Division.

The previous high turnout in a non-presidential election year was 1,200,887 votes in 1952. Voter turnout in the state has varied from a low of 34.3 per cent in 1930 to a top of 73.4 in 1960.

Philippine Government Bans Entry to People From Communist Lands

MANILA (AP) — The Philippine government barred citizens of Communist countries today from entering the country as a security measure until cold war tensions subside.

The sole exception is Communist country representatives serving the United Nations and its specialized agencies.

Salvador L. Marino, executive secretary to President Diosdado Macapagal, outlined the government position in refusing entry permits to basketball teams from the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia entered in the world basketball championships scheduled for Dec. 1-15.

Cuban City Rations Sale of Gasoline

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Havana Radio said gasoline has been rationed in the Cuban city of Cienfuegos "as a precautionary measure" in view of the threat of the Yankee imperialist blockade.

Cienfuegos is on Las Villas Province's southwestern coast near the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion site. The broadcast, monitored in meeting today by Key West Wednesday night said for a conference of city and university officials.

450 Half-Barrels of Beer on UW Campus Before Football Riot

MADISON (AP) — Alderman Harold E. Rohr says he was "staggered to find that over 450 half-barrels of beer were delivered to University of Wisconsin groups the weekend of the Notre Dame game when they had all that trouble."

Demonstrations before and after the Notre-Dame Wisconsin football game Oct. 13 resulted in 47 arrests as crowds estimated as large as 5,000 milled in dormitory areas. Five persons were injured.

Rohr said he wants to curtail what he described as the "gross dispensing" of beer on the campus. He limit the purchase of beer in bulk by organized university groups and govern the sale and delivery of beer to any unlicensed purveyors and particularly to the organized university groups.

The alderman said he planned to introduce at a City Council meeting today a resolution calling for a conference of city and university officials.

Hearing Slated On Proposal for School Heads

May Decide if
2 Counties Can
Have Single Chief

A public hearing on a proposal to have a joint county school superintendent for Outagamie and Waupaca counties will be held at 10 a.m. Nov. 7 in the Outagamie County courthouse annex.

The proposal was made by Angus B. Rothwell, state superintendent of public instruction.

With the resignation of George Barber, the position of county superintendent of schools in Waupaca County is vacant. Barber has accepted a position with the Manawa school system as curriculum coordinator and supervisor of the newly organized Little Wolf school district at Manawa.

A proposal to have a joint county superintendent for Waupaca and Winnebago counties was approved by the Waupaca County board but turned down by the Winnebago County board this fall.

Approval Needed

The state statutes authorize the state superintendent of public instruction to determine whether it is feasible to include the territory of any county with one or more adjacent counties for services performed by the county superintendent of schools. The action can become effective only after the county boards have officially approved recommendations made to them by their county education committees.

With the decline in the school area under the jurisdiction of county superintendents because of the reorganization of school districts, it has become apparent that jointures of neighboring counties are practical, Rothwell said.

With the area under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent being responsible for the financial support of the office of the county superintendent of schools, it is important the base be large enough not to inflict a burden upon those who must pay the taxes for this purpose, he said.

By sharing the cost of the operation of the office, taxpayers are being treated fairly, and the county superintendent is able to do his work better because a sufficient staff is warranted to employ supervisors as assistants, Rothwell said.

At the present time 26 counties are operating under joint superintendents, with several other unions scheduled to take effect within the current year.

Water Meeting Set For Ashland Oct. 29

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Continuing its search for means to coordinate state water conservation and regulation agencies, a legislative council committee on water resources will hold a public meeting in Ashland Monday, Oct. 29. Victor Wallin of Bayfield, a leader among those demanding a unified state water policy, was asked for the public hearing in the upper Wisconsin district.

10 Renamed to Curriculum Unit; Long, Precourt Added

NEENAH — Dr. Donald Scott, superintendent of schools, renamed 10 of the Neenah staff to the curriculum coordinating council.

Two members of the faculty were added this year. Alvin Long, principal of Neenah Junior High School and Lewis Precourt, mechanical drawing instructor at the senior and junior high schools.

Staff members who have served on this Council for the past two years are Harley Borgen, Miss Dorothy Burdorff, Miss Helen Hughes, John Gundlach, William Dunwiddie, Miss Mary Willets, Miss Beth Gotham, Miss Eudora Leveance, Miss Blanche McIntyre and Arlin Spiegelberg.

Among the considerations the superintendent listed for the Council's consideration this year were the prospect of going to the 6-3-3 plan in school organization and its consequent curriculum change (three years of junior high school and three years of senior high school), review of the testing program, continuing the arithmetic study, reorganization of the reading program and the possibilities of expanding the summer school program for elementary as well as secondary pupils.

This is the committee which has expanded the science, mathematics and business education curricula over the past two years. Through the council, plans for the summer school program initiated last summer were made.

Light in the Night Chased by Volunteers; Heater Blamed

A flickering light in a home under construction in the Town of Grand Chute early this morning sent Town of Grand Chute volunteer firemen out for an inspection. Firemen found the glow came from a gas heater left burning in a room.

The flickering light, described by Mrs. Harold Arbeiter, 420 Sunset Ave., to the sheriff's department was "quite bright". She said the flickering was coming from a home on Capital Drive and N. Division Street which was being constructed. She said the light could be seen in at least seven windows.

Need Seen for Expressways To Meet Fox Cities Growth

Improved Traffic Movement Gets High Priority by Area Officials

BY REINY WESSING
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Major traffic carriers, including high-speed, interurban highways, linking all of the Fox Cities will become increasingly necessary as the metropolitan community continues its rapid growth.

That's the opinion of most government and civic leaders queried by the Post-Crescent for their opinions on regional planning. Nov. 15 meeting to begin the Traffic and transportation ranked ahead of all other proposed improvements for the area.

Most of those queried were in favor of the system of expressways and five new high-level bridges proposed by Kenneth L. Schellie and Associates, consultant to the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission. The expressways and bridges would unify the traffic pattern in the entire region.

The commission's executive committee will be asked at its meeting to begin the Traffic and transportation ranked ahead of all other proposed improvements for the area.

Most of those queried were in favor of the system of expresschell will request the authority, based on a suggestion by City Planner-Traffic Engineer Walter Rasmussen.

On July 17, the Post-Crescent carried a detailed story and maps on the proposed expressway system.

Fifth of a Series

Some of the information is being repeated in this article so the public can refresh its memory.

As envisioned in the Schellie plan, the expressways would link the southern sections of the Fox Cities communities. A system of connector roads leading north and across the Fox River would join with the new U. S. 41 freeway. The plan is designed to move traffic through and around congested areas.

Three-in-One

The expressway system actually is composed of three, smaller, inter-related systems. The outer belt would carry high speed traffic around the communities, connecting them as a single unit. An inner belt would take traffic from or feed it onto the outer expressway roads. That traffic would be destined for or originate from the downtown areas. In the core area there would be a system of primary and through streets to deliver traffic to final destinations or any local streets desired.

The outer belt would start north of Menasha, and would be connected to U. S. 41 and U. S. 45 by means of two of the proposed new high-level bridges.

One spur of the expressway would cross Little Lake Butte des Morts in the area of County Trunk PP and Ninth Street in Menasha. A second spur would cross the Fox River at the southwest tip of the Palisades area and would follow the Outagamie-Winebago County dividing line (Appleton's Prospect Avenue). The two spurs would join in the Town of Menasha, south of the Palisades and west of State 47.

Join State 55

The expressway then would continue straight east, skirting Appleton's present southern limits, until a short distance past the city's eastern limits.

Then it would make a right angle turn north, go across County Trunk KK and meet the proposed extension of Appleton's College Avenue.

There it would make a right angle turn to the east and would follow the proposed extension of College across County Trunk N and State 55. It goes beyond 55 to a short distance past Kaukauna's eastern limits, then turns northeasterly and terminates at a proposed U. S. 41-State 96 interchange. Here is where another of the new bridges would be needed.

There would be two north-south connector roads between the expressway and the 41 freeway. One would be between Appleton and Kimberly and the other between Little Chute-Combined Locks and Kaukauna. These connectors each would require a new bridge across the Fox River.

Reserve Land

A complex system of primary, secondary and collector streets would be woven throughout the entire Fox Cities region, all having connections with the expressway system.

Menasha is in the process of trying to get state approval for a bridge across Little Lake Butte des Morts in the County Trunk PP-Ninth Street area, about at the city's northern limits. The Schellie plan proposes using freeway-type construction for the expressway. Right-of-ways would be 210 feet wide. There would be two 34-foot wide lanes separated by a median. There would be limited access, some grade separations and cutout lanes for turning. The planning firm recommends that the 11 member municipalities adopt proposed, uniform zoning, land use and subdivision control ordinances so that the expressway land can be reserved.

Vike '11' Hopes To Rebound Against Beloit

Lawrence Will be Without Wickland And Cromheecke

When the Lawrence College Vikings invade the camp of state rival Beloit this weekend, they will be doing it with a cautious eye looking forward and a sad eye looking backward.

The cautious eye will be focused upon a Beloit defense which is the best in the Midwest Conference and a Beloit homecoming frenzy of excitement.

The sad eye looks back upon the heartbreaking 15-14 loss last weekend to arch-rival Ripon, a game which spoiled the Viking homecoming activities and may have spoiled the entire season.

Lawrence will be without the services of two 60-minute regulars, Paul Cromheecke and Carrey Wickland. Cromheecke was re-injured on the first series of plays in the Ripon game. Wickland suffered an earlier shoulder injury and is out for the season. Beloit is a young team which

NOTES and NOTIONS

Guessing Scoreboard

LAST WEEK	THIS WEEK	SEASON'S TOTALS
22 1 1	11 1 1	11 1 1

No matter how old the football season gets, this guessing game becomes no easier. There are more than the usual number of toss-ups on this week's agenda, so pardon me while I get a coin.

Packers over Colts—The Bays have a little settling-up to do for last year's humiliation in Baltimore (for four straight defeats in the Colts' corral, in fact). Unitas & Co. are dangerous on the attack, but the Colt defense won't be able to stop the Packers often enough to win.

Wisconsin over Ohio State—When one team (UW) hasn't won in a particular city (Columbus) in 44 years, it's worth considerable reservations that such a pick is made. However, this has started out as a jinx-breaking year for the Badgers, and they seem to have enough offensive ammunition of all sorts to edge out a snarling Buckeye team.

Lawrence over Beloit—The Vikings have the stuff to come back emotionally and physically from that hair-breadth disappointment against Ripon.

Xavier over Springs—The Hawks have cleared the major obstacles enroute to a second straight unbeaten season, so they don't figure to have too much trouble knocking down the Ledgers' defenses.

Oshkosh over Appleton—When these two currently-hot teams clash, sparks are due to fly. The Terrors have shown an ability to move well both on the ground and through the air. A fearsome running attack gives Oshkosh a slight edge, however.

Neenah over Clintonville—Nearing their goal (a perfect record), the high-soaring Rockets aren't about to slow down now. The Truckers are battlers, however, and figure to make Neenah work for everything it gets.

Kimberly over New London—The Papermakers are due to break their losing streak and regain the .500 level in league play.

Kaukauna over Shawano—The Ghosts, with an eye on a second place finish, may erupt in their first spurge of offensive power in the M-E campaign.

Two Rivers over Menasha—The Raiders could use the confidence lift gained in their win over Kaukauna to prevail in this even-appearing game.

Premont over St. Mary—The Cadets last week showed no ill effects from their thumping by Xavier and have a little too much power for the Zephyrs.

Loures over St. John—The Dutchmen have been unable to find the right combination thus far and don't figure to do it Sunday against the often-dangerous Knights.

Midwest Conference—Coe over Monmouth, Ripon over Cornell, St. Olaf over Knox, Grinnell over Carleton.

Fox Valley Conference—South over West, Manitowoc over East, Fond du Lac over North.

Other Games—Bonduel over Weyauwega, Wittenberg over Marion, Waupaca over Manawa, Wautoma over Iola-Scandinavia, Chilton over Brillion, Wrights-town over Denmark, Reedsville over Shiocton, Hilbert over Hortonville, Winneconne over Freedom, Pennings over Marinette.

Cleveland Coach Denies That Jim Brown May be Slipping

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns' coach Sunday said, referring to some recent comments that his big fullback against the Pittsburgh Steelers may be slipping. "It's just a question of getting the opportunities Cleveland is 'sort of a neighbor-ly feud,'" says Coach Paul Brown.

"If we can look like we did last week," the coach added, "we might get back in the thick of it in the National Football League."

Speaking before the Cleveland Advertising Club Wednesday, the coach indicated the Steelers may be out to avenge a pre-season loss at the hands of the Browns. "We may have made it a little tougher for ourselves by beating them in an exhibition game," he said.

Turning to individual players on the Cleveland squad, coach Brown said there is nothing wrong with Fullback Jim Brown's legs. "He's the same runner he always has been. A few bumps and misfortunes and the hammers come out," he said.

Saturday's Wisconsin-at-Ohio State football game will feature two of the Big Ten's leading scorers, Ron Smith and Dave Francis. In the upper photo, OSU fullback Francis scores against Northwestern to run his point total to 18—fourth best in the conference. No. 71 is NU's Jack Cverck. At the bottom, the Badgers' Ron Smith scores on a touchdown pass. (No. 23 is Iowa's Bob Sherman). Smith is tied for the league lead with 24 points. (AP Wirephotos)

UW Tops Big 10 Offensively; VanderKelen Leads in Passing

MADISON (AP)—The spirits and physical condition of the University of Wisconsin football team are both at season peaks as the Badgers prepare for Saturday's game with powerful Ohio State at Columbus.

The return of placekicking specialist Gary Kroner to the drill field Wednesday put the Badgers in their best physical shape of the year. Kroner, a senior halfback, has been sidelined with a hip injury.

Coach Milt Bruhn said Kroner will be ready for kicking duties but probably won't draw any running assignments.

AHS and Xavier Will Play Final Road Contests Friday

Hawks Seek To Clinch Title Tie

BY RALPH MUELLER Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Xavier's Hawks will try to take another step toward their second straight Fox Valley Catholic Conference football championship Friday night when they face St. Mary Springs at Fond du Lac.

Coach Gene "Torchy" Clark's powerful Hawks, who score points at the rate of 37 per contest and yield them at a pace of three per game, will be facing a Ledger unit that has allowed more points than any other FVCC team. Springs has given up 116 points and scored 85 but holds a third place tie with Menasha St. Mary with a 3-2 won-lost mark.

Colts Have Strong Running Attack to Go With Passing

Matte, Perry Setting Pace; R. C. Owens Ahead of Berry

GREEN BAY — The Colts gave the Packers quite a shellacking in Baltimore last year, but the day Viking Coach Norm Van Brocklin pitched this bouquet at the Packers and Bart Starr in LA one day last week. "The Packers never let loose of the darn ball with their three four-six, move-the-sticks offense. Bart Starr is the master of all situations. He is the smartest quarterback in pro football. The Colts actually outgained the Bears in losing 35-15 last Sunday, 414 yards to 408. Unitas, Matte and LaMar McHan completed 20 of 35 passes for 330 yards.

Wally Cruice, the Packer's advance eye, saw the Colts play a couple of times this year and noted this: "Of course, the Colts are better than last year. They got a running attack now. That Matte has run Hawkins right out of there. Matte was hurt last year. It looks like Owens has moved in front of Berry and that's hard to imagine."

Had Let-Down "The Colts were great against Cleveland (36-14) and they had a little let-down against the Bears (35-15). The Bears got hot on them and I think that home audience helped the Bears."

Unitas hasn't changed a bit. He's not hurt. They'll be high for us—like everybody else."

Cruice covered a lot of bases while preparing his blackboard for the weekly talk before the Packers but the most significant "hint" he dropped was the "height" of the enemy.

Tom Matte, the one-time Ohio State great, is practically a rookie. He has taken over the left-half spot where he is equally dangerous as a runner and passer. Matte is leading the Colts in ground gaining with 211 yards in 67 attempts. He has attempted 11 passes and completed 5 for 85 yards, one touchdown and no interceptions. What's more he caught 7 passes for 71 yards and one touchdown. He has scored three touchdowns and returned 10 kickoffs for 272 yards.

Matte shares the running with Joe Perry who suddenly has found a new life at his advanced age. 35 Perry has 104 yards in 39 tries. Mark Smolinski, the other fullback, has 163 in 49.

Incidentally, Unitas has 25 rushing attempts — apparently mostly when receivers were covered—for 25 yards. His longest gain was 18 yards—so he must have been tossed for a few losses along the way.

Berry Injured R. C. Owens, the old 49er alley oop, has been working at left end in place of Raymond Berry who has been injured a bit. Dee Mackey is at right end and the spread ends are Jim Orr and Lenny Moore.

And that brings up a question. Moore was supposed to be ready the last couple of games, what with a safely healed knee, but he has done little. The feeling is that Lenny is gradually recovering and now is ready to burst forth against Green Bay.

Moore caught 7 passes in last year's Colt win and Unitas bothered the Packers with 22 completions in 35 attempts for 218 yards and four touchdowns.

Briefs: Injured Paul Hornung

Terrors Hope To Stymie OHS Rushing

OSHKOSH'S "punch 'em out" offense has rolled up the FRVC's leading rushing total of 1,275 yards — a bulging average of 255 per game.

How well AHS' defense — particularly the front wall — handles the thrusts of fullback Larry Koplitz, halfback Bill Paffenroth and quarterback Bill Stenhuber will determine the Terrors' chances of keeping their winning streak alive.

Has 2 Road Wins Appleton, which will be playing its final road game of the season, has won its three most recent games, after starting off with an 0-2 conference record. The Terrors have won two out of three road contests this season.

All week, AHS Coach Ade Dillon and his staff have set up various defenses designed to check Koplitz and his mates. Once the

Great Progress Reported in Realignment

Major, Minor Leagues Hold Closed-Door Parley

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles Segar, secretary of baseball, said Wednesday that "very great progress" was made Tuesday at a meeting of baseball officials in Chicago discussing major-minor league realignment.

Segar said, however, that he was not at liberty to disclose details of the closed-door meeting "because our club clubs have not yet been notified and I feel they should be before any announcement is made."

George Trautman, head of the minor leagues, who attended the meeting as an observer, said, "it was a very constructive meeting. I feel some great steps were taken," but he declined to elaborate.

Segar said the group discussed realignment.

Authorities Claim Number of Football Deaths Is Not High

Only 4 of 18 Fatalities Can Be Attributed to Competition

BY MIKE RATHET Assistant Coach Charley Driver said the units were running dummy plays when "Mike held up his hand to me and said 'Coach, I can't go.' I said okay. I didn't really think anything about it at the time."

The latest additions to the list of players who have died as a result of football injuries came within a 24-hour period Wednesday when the deaths of 17-year-old Mike Mallory and 18-year-old James Lucian Raudon were reported.

Mallory, a senior starting guard for Gallup, N.M. High School, apparently died of a head injury after collapsing on the practice field. Baudin, a freshman at Louisiana State University at Alexandria, suffered a skull fracture in an intramural touch football game.

Mallory's coach, Pete Hurst, said the youth had not complained of an injury or of being ill when he came up for a talk with the coach.

"He was standing there and all of a sudden fell over," said Hurst.

Mallory's death was the 13th in high schools this year. Baudin's death was the second in sandlot play. Three collegians also have died. Last year, there were 21 high school deaths, eight sandlot, six college and one semi pro.

An Associated Press survey revealed this breakdown for 1962:

Deaths	Collegians	H.S. Sandlot
In Practice	3	13
In Game	0	2
Head Injury	0	7
Heat Stroke	2	1
Heart	0	2
Other Cause	1	3

The total of 18 deaths, falling at the halfway mark of the season, indicate the number for the year could approach the 36 deaths recorded last year. The 1961 total was the largest since 44 died in 1936.

Authorities, however, point out that the total is not high considering the number of players throughout the country. One estimate for high schools puts the rate at one in 100,000.

Mallory's sudden collapse seems to be the rule rather than the exception. Most of the players succumbed in a similar manner.

Mike Kelsey, 20-year-old Southern Methodist center, became the first college fatality on Sept. 2, when he died after an apparent heart stroke during the first practice session of the season for the Southwest Conference teams.

who was out of the 49er game with a twisted knee, dropped into second place in the 1962 scoring race. He lost his lead to Dallas and Frank Clarke, who grabbed three touchdown passes and ran his total to 66. Hornung is second with 62.

Coach Vince Lombardi said Wednesday that it had not been determined whether Hornung would be ready to play in the Packers game at Baltimore next Sunday.

The Packers not only lead the league with 19 pass interceptions but Green Bay's Willie Wood, Herb Adderley and Hank Gremminger are the three top men in that department. Wood has six interceptions and Adderley and Gremminger five each.

Boyd Dowler is second in punting with 46.8 average in 16 kicks, trailing Sam Baker of Dallas, who also has a 46.8 average but has kicked the ball 25 times.

Green Bay Quarterback Bart Starr is second among passers with an 8.79 yard average per toss. He has completed 78 of 118 passes. Eddie LeBaron of Dallas is the leader with a 10.27 yard average on 60 completions in 92 throws.

has come on strong under the tutelage of their new coach, Norm Amundsen. They have given up fewer yards per game than any other Midwest Conference team.

The Ripon loss was a difficult one because of the way it happened. After being outplayed by the Redmen during most of the game, Lawrence fought back and had victory within its grasp in the last minute.

"Jack Ankerson licked us," Coach Bernie Hesellon said Monday. "His running and passing kept us off-stride during most of the game."

"I don't know if we can bounce back or not," the silver-anniversary coach said. "It was a tremendous disappointment."

whistle blows at 8 p.m. Friday, it will be squarely up to the Terrors' Tim Kranzusch, Tom Karrow, Wayne Krake and the rest of their front-line colleagues to slow the Oshkosh procession that has stormed to four straight wins after a loss to Sheboygan South.

After seeing Koplitz rip through Green Bay's defense — second best in the league — last week, Dillon characterized him as one of the fastest — starting, hardest-running backs he has seen in the FRVC in his 20 years of coaching.

Koplitz, who covered a fabulous total of 248 yards against Manitowish the week before that, is leading the conference in both rushing and scoring. Koplitz, who weighs in the neighborhood of 175 pounds, has picked up 618 yards in 120 carries — an average of 5.2 — and has scored 60 points (an average of two touchdowns per FRV game).

Has 8.6 Average

The speedy Paffenroth is averaging 3.8 on a total of 234 yards, and Steinhilber, who usually runs the ball four or five times a game, has a fat 8.6 average.

Though Oshkosh is not a passing team — throwing at a rate of only five times per league game — it has averaged better than 22 yards for each completion. Lanky end Roger Beck has been one of Steinhilber's most frequent targets.

The AHS defense, getting better by the week, ranks fourth in the conference — only a shade behind third place Oshkosh's and is only five yards per game weaker than second place West. The Terrors have surrendered 856 yards in five games, while Oshkosh has given up 847.

Over-all, AHS has been as hard to score against as Oshkosh. In six games (including a 33-0 non-league win over Menasha), the Terrors have allowed 52 points— 8.7 per game — the identical average Oshkosh owns. The Indians, whose 4-2 record is the same as Appleton's, lost 14-6 to Madison East in a non-leaguer.

Though OHS has a 1-point per game better scoring average for league play than AHS, the Terrors have the over-all edge. In six games, Appleton has scored 113 points — an average of 18.8 — while Oshkosh has tallied 91 (15.2 average).

The Indian defense will also be in for a busy evening trying to contain a group of dangerous Terror backs. Gary Hietpas, AHS' leading ground gainer, and Bill Karrow provided the power, while Dick Brock is a top outside threat. This trio is due to start in the backfield, along with quarterback Mike Woehler.

All-America Board Considering UW's Richter, Pillath, Bowman

BY JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO (AP) — What's with Wisconsin's amazing Badgers? Opening the season with only one publicized performer—6-foot, 6-inch end Pat Richter—the Badgers move against defending Big Ten champion Ohio State Saturday at Columbus, Ohio, unbeaten in four starts and ranked No. 5 in The Associated Press national poll.

Obviously, much more than the towering Richter has propelled Wisconsin to victories over New Mexico State, Indiana, Notre Dame and Iowa and made the Badgers the nation's top scoring major college team and No. 4 in total offense.

Richter, who has caught 16 passes for 219 yards and 5 touchdowns and has played fine defensive ball, is ranked a top all-American candidate by The Associated Press Midwest Screening board.

But the board today cited two other Badger forwards prime candidates for the mythical honor team. They are 210-pound center Ken Bowman and 245-pound tackle Roger Pillath, both juniors.

Norm Joecks Powers 673 In Lutheran Bowling League

Norm Joecks powered a 245 singleton and a 673 trio to sweep honors in the Lutheran Bowling League at Hahn's Lanes.

Bob Ziegler had a 233 and a 586. Lloyd Mueller hit a 597, and Earl Goehler fired a 236 and 630. Other honor counts were: Ken Nymoen, 618; Bob Kositzke, 225; Claude Radtke, 593; O. Fredricks, 225; and "Baldy" Eggert, 556. Jenkel's holds the team lead with 16-5 mark.

Against Iowa, senior Vanderkelen connected on 18 of 28 passes for 202 yards and three TD's, the second quarterback in Badger history ever to pile up more than 200 yards passing in a conference game.

Others who enhanced their All-America bids last Saturday were quarterback Tom Myers and guard Jack Cvercko of Northwestern in the Wildcats' 18-14 upset of Ohio State; and fullback George Salmes of Michigan State, who slashed to three touchdowns in the Spartans' 31-7 triumph over Notre Dame.

Still very much in this district's All-America running are tackles Bobby Bell of Minnesota and Don Brumm of Purdue, center Dave Behrman of Michigan State and quarterback Ron Digravio of Purdue, who pitched three touchdowns in the 37-0 Boilermaker triumph over Michigan.

Woodruff Hatchery Sets New Record for Muskie Production

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin, Art Oehmcke, north-east area fisheries supervisor, credits Kenneth Walker, hatchery foreman, with achieving the record.

The Conservation Department management, coupled with a few asserted today that its Woodruff hatchery has astonished propagation experts by production of 10,174 pounds this year. In 1960, it found the formula that will keep noted, the Spooner hatchery production at this level, turned out 4,216 pounds, adding that this was more than had ever been reared before at a single installation.

The muskies, ranging from 4 to 14 inches long, have been stocked in Wisconsin waters.

deney to devour brothers and sisters with the same vigor that it gulps a sucker.

This problem has been solved by raising suckers on a big scale. This year 850,000 musky fry that Walker put into the rearing ponds consumed 70 million suckers. Half of the 23 rearing ponds at the Woodruff facility are devoted to sucker raising. Other food is required, however, and the young muskies later get perch and Lake Superior emerald shiners.

Musky spawn is taken the last week of April through the first week of May.

Stock planted this year will of the only entrant. Interested reach legal catch size in 1967, the parties should contact the ARD office, City Hall.

3 Teams Needed For ARD Women's Cage League

Only one team signed up for play in the Appleton Recreation Department Women's Basketball League at a meeting Tuesday night. The loop needs three more teams before it can operate in the 1962-63 season.

The ARD has set Nov. 2 the deadline for entry. Games are slated for the Edison School Gym Thursday evenings.

Eunice Umiland is the captain of the only entrant. Interested parties should contact the ARD office, City Hall.

record in four years of play at Xavier. They have scored 192 points in loop play this season and have had only 22 scored against them. None of the points were scored on the first defensive unit.

All of the barrels in the multi-barrelled Xavier attack are loaded for use against Springs except one. Offensive end and defensive halfback Bob Rammer will miss the remainder of the season due to a cracked bone in his shoulder.

Jerry Seljan will take Rammer's place on offense, and Dick Boots will take over on defense. The Hawks will make only two lineup changes when the ball changes as pint-sized Mike Kaphingst will replace big Tom Peeters and Jim Springer enters in place of Seljan.

The offense will align with Seljan and Boots, ends, Jim Capaine and Floyd Slayton, tackles Kelly Kornely and Jim Pegel, guards, Tom Schueppert, center, Dick Wiesner, quarterback, "Rocky" Bleier and "Kip" Whittinger halfbacks, and Peeters, fullback.

Coach Clark uses a 7-diamond as his basic defense. He shifts the seven linemen around so that the opposition doesn't know where they'll line up until after the defensive huddle and just seconds before the opponents come up to the line of scrimmage.

The seven regulars in the forward wall that actually haven't allowed a point this year are Pegel, Schueppert, Capaine, Slayton, Kornely, Springer and

Yankees Get $9,882 Each From Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Bobby Richardson's grab of a sinking line drive by Willie McCovey has to rank among the most expensive catches in major league baseball history. It was worth $120,859.44.

That's the difference in the player pool shares split up by the winning New York Yankees and the losing San Francisco Giants from the 1962 World Series.

The figures were announced Wednesday by Charles Segar, baseball secretary.

A full winning share for the Yankees amounted to $9,882.74 and a full share for the losing Giants came to a record $7,291.49. The Yankees voted 34 full shares and the Giants 29.

Richardson's grab of McCovey's liner ended the seventh game of the World Series, won by the Yankees 1-0. The tying run was on third and the winning run on second.

The Yankees' winning share is the third highest. The Los Angeles Dodgers got the most, $11,231.18 for a full share, after their victory over Chicago in 1959. The New York Giants got $11,147.90 each following their 1954 sweep of Cleveland.

The highest previous losing share was $7,275.17 by the White Sox in 1959.

Spreeman Hits 590 in League

State Welfare Asks $28.6 Million Hike In Budget for '63

Appropriations Request for Next Biennium Comes to $153 Million

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — The huge Department of Public Welfare Wednesday joined the parade of state agencies demanding giant increases in state tax fund appropriations to finance work during the next two years, heightening interest in the tax issue of the state election campaign.

The department made public a proposed budget, subject to the approval of the governor-elect and the legislature to be chosen November 6, of about $153,000,000 for the next biennium or about $28.6 million higher than the spending authority voted to it by the 1961 legislature.

Its proposal followed huge increases requested by the state colleges, the University of Wisconsin, and the Department of Public Instruction. Spending proposals thus far indicate the $100,000,000 or 20 per cent increase in the state budget once estimated by the Bureau of Finance will be very low, if it is managed.

If the higher spending trend as now being outlined is permitted by the legislature, the gross increase of the state during the next two years is more likely to reach $200,000,000. Any increase above present total spending levels will require new taxation. The state budget is now barely in balance with revenues from the existing tax structure.

Director Wilbur G. Schmidt of the Welfare Administration laying his budget document before his advisory board of public welfare, said it represents a policy of continuing existing services provided by law and an enlargement of such services as "can be justified."

There are more persons involved in the department's programs of relief, mental hospital care, state prisons and correction schools, and parole and probation services and children's programs, he explained.

"The object of the entire plan is to do a better job of rehabilitation and treatment in all areas in which the department has responsibilities, by reaching more of the people requiring these services earlier and with a more intensive effort. By so doing we can reduce human suffering and waste and look toward economy in the long run by shortening the span of dependency and the length of time in need of institutional care," he summarized.

Prevention is also a more important

Appleton Donates Land For Guard Armory Site

22-Acres From Industrial Park Given To State of Wisconsin for Project

It's official. The City of Appleton has donated 22 acres of land from its industrial park to the State of Wisconsin to construct a new $500,000 national guard armory.

The common council took final action Wednesday night after receiving a recommendation from the city plan commission.

Earlier in the month, the council voted 14 to 6 to give the land and necessary improvements to the state providing it met with approval of the plan commission.

Way Paved

The council's action Wednesday night paves the way for national guard officials to have final plans prepared for the proposed armory which will serve the entire Fox Cities region and close to 1,000 local and area guardsmen.

State Armory Board officials previously told council that land in the industrial park would be ideal for the armory and maintenance center which will adjoin it. Guard officials said it is hoped to let contracts for the work in the spring of 1963.

In other action, the common council approved the tentative Northwood Park plat but made no commitment as to when the city would extend water and sewer services into the area.

Recommended to the park board that it purchase six lots from Robert K. Kirk in the Armstrong Subdivision at a cost of $15,000.

Authorized negotiations for the sale of the Whispering Pines School to the Appleton Coated Paper Co., which wants the property for expansion purposes. The city will have appraisals made of the site.

Adopted a revised set of procedures for rezoning property in the City of Appleton. The city clerk was authorized to have necessary forms and cards prepared.

Trio Instructed

Instructed the mayor, public works director and city planner to meet with interested parties with reference to the establishment of a timetable for improvement of the Appleton industrial park.

Lawrence Says

Blockade of Cuba Alone Insufficient

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The United States cannot afford to wait indefinitely and may feel compelled as a matter of self-protection to bomb and destroy in the next few days all the missile bases in Cuba. A blockade alone is not sufficient.

There is no justification, it is felt here in many quarters, for taking chances with the security of the American people. Fidel Castro is a reckless and irresponsible man. He has the weapons to threaten many cities in this country. The United States already has at hand near Cuba the means of dismantling those bases. Such action can be taken in self-defense. President Kennedy said in his speech last Monday night.

"We no longer live in a world where only the actual firing of weapons represents a sufficient challenge to a nation's security to constitute maximum peril. Nuclear weapons are so destructive and ballistic missiles are so swift, that any substantially increased possibility of their use or any sudden change in their deployment may well be regarded as a definite threat to peace."

Continuing Threat
"I have directed the armed forces to prepare for any eventualities and I trust that in the interest of both the Cuban people and the Soviet technicians at the sites, the hazards to all concerned of continuing this threat will be recognized."

If any bombing occurs, the lives of the Soviet technicians may be endangered. It would be better, therefore, to warn them to withdraw immediately. This calls for an explicit ultimatum. If, within a certain specified number of days all the missile sites are not voluntarily destroyed, the bombers of the U.S. Air Force could be ordered to do the job. It would take less than an hour's time.

But is there evidence that nuclear bombs have already been shipped to Cuba? They could easily be hidden. They could not be photographed from the air. Definite information as to their presence in Cuba is not available but Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said after the President's speech Monday night.

Hard to Observe
"Nuclear warheads are of such a size that it is extremely unlikely we would ever be able to observe them by the intelligence means open to us. I think it is almost inconceivable, however, that there would be missiles, as I have indicated, without accompanying warheads."

Nuclear bombs can, of course, be dropped from airplanes. The President on Monday night spoke of the intermediate-range ballistic missiles that could strike most of the major cities in the Western Hemisphere, and then declared:

"In addition, jet bombers, capable of carrying nuclear weapons, are now being uncrated and assembled in Cuba, while the necessary air bases are being prepared."

The Pentagon spokesman showed newsmen several aerial photographs of Soviet airplanes lined up on the edges of runways in Cuba. In response to a question whether the jet bombers were capable of carrying nuclear weapons, he answered in the affirmative.

Indisputable Evidence
So the United States now has indisputable evidence of missile sites being prepared and of jet bombers being assembled on Cuban territory. This makes it possible for the United States to be attacked at any moment.

The charter of the United Nations recognizes the right of any member to resist armed attack. This implies the right also to thwart an armed attack. While the United States therefore, is going through the normal procedure of demanding preventive action by the Security Council, a veto there by the Soviets has been anticipated. This could result in independent action by the United States with or without any of its Latin-American allies. Such steps are authorized by article 51 of the U.N. charter, which reads as follows:

"Nothing in the present charter shall impair the inherent right of individual or collective self-defense, if an armed attack occurs against a member of the organization, until the Security Council has taken the measures necessary to maintain international peace and security. Measures taken by members in the exercise of this right of self-defense shall be immediately reported to the Security Council and shall not in any way affect the authority and responsibility of the Security Council under the present charter to take at any time such action as it may deem necessary."

Lawrence

In order to maintain or restore international peace and security...

The Security Council can hardly take action in advance that would tie the hands of any country under attack or threatened with attack. The council can, of course, set up machinery for mediation or for the preservation of the status quo after hostilities have been commenced.

So the United States has a right to wipe out the missile bases and to destroy the bomber aircraft in Cuba, and can then cooperate with a commission of the United Nations to determine the responsibility for the original deposit of Soviet weapons and nuclear bombs in Cuba and the erection of missile bases equipped for offensive action.

There is, however, little reason in logic for the United States to enter into a long palaver at the U.N. about the offensive or defensive nature of the Soviet missile bases in Cuba, when at any moment a reckless Castro can push a button and order an attack on the United States. The Soviet government will disclaim any responsibility for any offensive military action taken by Castro against the United States.

The situation cannot be allowed to drift. Action by the United States may be expected if Cuba doesn't voluntarily dismantle the bases immediately and allow observers from the U.N. to inspect and decide for themselves if the threat to peace has actually been removed.

Quiet Twin Often Needs Help in Early Years of Grade Schooling

BY LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

Dear Dr. Nason:

Our twin boys started first grade this year. One twin likes school, loves his teacher and enters into everything. The other twin does not like school nor his teacher and will not talk in school.

What can we do to help him?

D. L. Hazelt, N.J.

In the case of two brothers, particularly twins, one often becomes the spokesman for both, with results similar to the ones you describe.

Take time each day to listen to the quiet boy. Discuss the problem with his teacher. Ask her cooperation in helping him develop the ability to speak for himself.

This all may take time. After all it took several years for him to get into his present pattern of action.

Dear Dr. Nason:

How do you teach children to be selective in the books they read?

J. R. Los Angeles

A thoughtful selection of books has to be learned.

Usually children get their first chance to select the books they wish to read at about the third grade. For many children this is the first time they have been asked to read without being told what they are to find out.

This new procedure requires some explanation. Either parents or teachers should help. From this point on in many schools children get some opportunity for selective reading under the supervision of their teachers.

If this does not take place in comes the spokesman for both, with results similar to the ones you describe.

Make frequent trips to the library. Let your children discuss their choices with the librarian.

Dear Dr. Nason:

I am a third grade teacher. How can I maintain discipline and still make friends with the children?

B. L. Battle Creek, Mich.

You do not have to choose between maintaining discipline and making friends with the children. In fact children like a teacher better if he or she give them a clear understanding of the rules under which the classroom operates.

Years later they look back on a

you will have respect and friendship.

Dear Dr. Nason:

My little boy has always been large for his age. He is an extremely nervous child. At home he can spell and read very well but at school he does not do well. The teacher says he is forgetful. He says the teacher is cross and crabby.

M.C., Dunnellon, Fla.

Children are sensitive to the reactions of people around them.

Without realizing that they are being unkind, the teacher and the children may expect more of your boy than they should — particularly since he is large for his age.

Have a talk with his teacher. Perhaps she can enlist the cooperation of the other pupils and relieve some of the tension so that your child can do better in school.

(You may obtain a copy of Dr. Nason's "Help Your Child Succeed" booklet by sending $1 in check or money order (no cash) to this newspaper.)

Clintonville Youth Injured

CLINTONVILLE—Dennis Kroll, 19, 31 Anne St., Clintonville, received a cut on his head and a bruised arm and leg when the car in which he was a passenger struck a parked car on N. Main Street at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Driver of the car was Miss Justine School. (You may obtain a copy of Dr. Nason's "Help Your Child Succeed" booklet by sending $1 in check or money order (no cash) to this newspaper.)

Hotel Clintonville who was traveling north when she struck the parked car of John S. Emerson, 36 519 Picnic St. Shawano. No one was in the Emerson vehicle at the time.

Capt. Willard Wied of the Clintonville police department investigated the accident. Damages were estimated at $300 to each car.

4-H Club Meeting

Kenneth Byler To Give Next Faculty Recital

Violinist to Play 3 Famed Sonatas At Sunday Program

Lawrence Conservatory faculty violinist Kenneth Byler will present a public program at 8:15 p.m. Sunday in Harper Hall of the Lawrence Music Center. Byler will be assisted by pianist Barbara Byler, his wife.

The famed classical B.S. Bach, Beethoven and Brahms make up the recital fare consisting of three major sonata works. The recital is the fourth in the current Faculty Series. Byler and his wife recently returned from Europe where the Lawrence associate professor of music was on a one-semester research leave from the conservatory. His overseas venture was built around two periods of study with one of the continent's leading string teachers, Max Rostal. Mrs. Byler participated in her husband's lessons while studying piano herself.

His Background
Byler teaches strings at Lawrence and is conductor of the college's symphony orchestra. He holds a Bachelor of Music degree from American Conservatory and a Master of Music degree from the University of Michigan. His conducting was studied under Thor Johnson and Edgar Schenkman, the latter at Juilliard School of music. Byler's violin study in America was done with Scott Wilkins and Edouard Dethier.

Sunday's program will open with a Bach Sonata in E Major written about 1720. Its four movements are alternately dignified and lively.

Next the Brahms 'Sonata No. 2 in A major Op. 100' is a work of placid moods. It exhibits great tenderness, warmth and grace. Its date 1886 was about 10 years before the composer's death and accordingly the sonata shows a noble maturity of style.

The second half of Byler's program features the Beethoven 'Sonata in C minor Op. 30 No. 2.' This is the second of a set of three written in 1802. It has contrasting movements of great dramatic power, serenity and humor.

Sunday's complete program follows:

Program	Composer
Sonata No. 3 in E major	Bach
Adagio
Allegro
Adagio ma non tanto
Allegro
Sonata No. 2 in A major Op. 100	Brahms
Allegro amabile
Andante tranquillo-Vivace
Allegretto grazioso (quasi andante)
Intermission
Sonata in C minor Op. 30 No. 2	Beethoven
Allegro con brio
Adagio cantabile
Scherzo, Allegro
Finale, Allegro

Retreat House Incurs Damage

Damage to a brick wall at the Monte Alverno Retreat House is being investigated by Outagamie County Sheriff Department officials.

An investigation has shown that a car traveling east on Wisconsin Avenue late Tuesday night may have used the home's driveway for a high-speed turn around point and may have clipped the wall.

A hub cap and paint on the brick wall indicates the car may have been damaged when hitting the wall.

St. Norbert to Give Awards

DePere, Milwaukee Men Chosen for Alma Mater Honor

DE PERE — Henry Jacobs and Albert Zelten, both of De Pere, and John H. Fountain, Milwaukee, today were named winners of the 1962 St. Norbert College Alma Mater Awards.

The three men will be presented with the awards at halftime during Saturday afternoon's St. Norbert homecoming football game with Morningside College of Iowa at the J. R. Minahan Stadium.

The Alma Mater is given annually to alumni members of their immediate families or former faculty members for an achievement record of outstanding service in Christian life and vocational success. Recommendations are made to the president of the college by the national officers of the St. Norbert Alumni Association.

First from De Pere
Jacobs and Zelten are the first men from De Pere to receive the award.

Jacobs, a member of the St. Norbert class of 1933, is a member of the Alumni Council and chairman of the athletic board at St. Norbert. Jacobs is president of his family grocery business and is secretary-treasurer of the United Grocers, a wholesaling firm at Little Chute. He is a member of the board of directors of the State Bank of De Pere.

46 Years
Zelten, 72, has been a member of the college's maintenance staff for almost a half century—46 years to be exact. The Zeltons have 10 children. All four sons of Zelten have attended St. Norbert College and three of the six daughters are married to St. Norbert alumni.

Fountain was a 1921 St. Norbert graduate. Shortly after he joined the teaching faculty at Marquette High School in Milwaukee where he has been since.

This is the sixth year that the Alma Mater Awards have been presented.

The Alma Mater Award winners will be guests of the St. Norbert Alumni Association Saturday evening at the alumni homecoming festivities scheduled at the Memorial Union.

State Institutions' '52 Expenditures Double in Decade

The $29 million appropriated by the state to operate state institutions in 1962 was about double the amount spent in 1952, the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance says. State institutions include the mental and penal facilities of the department of public welfare, the schools for the deaf and blind operated by the department of public instruction and the Grand Army home for veterans.

Increased populations and expanded programs accounted in part for the rise in costs in state institutions.

In 1961 the average number of persons in state institutions was 10,334 or 25 per cent more than in 1952.

The average number of patients in state mental institutions in 1961 was 5,969, an increase of 20 per cent since 1952. The 3,488 persons confined in state correctional institutions in 1961 represented a 52 per cent increase over 1952.

Woman Car Passenger Suffers Arm Injury In Appleton Accident

A passenger was injured Wednesday when the car in which she was riding was involved in a collision on Oneida Street near Fremont Street.

Injuring her elbow was Mrs.

Harvey A. Korth who was a passenger in a car driven by her husband. The Korth car was traveling south on S. Oneida Street when it collided with a car being driven by Robert E. Wichmann, 48, 1619 S. Walden Avenue. The Korth car was stopped on S. Oneida Street waiting to make a left turn onto E. Fremont Street when the accident occurred.

'Sam, the Hack Driver' Can't Stand Retirement

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Sam, the cabby, is back behind the wheel again and says he wants to stay there the rest of his life. On a foggy, clammy morning recently he drew up to the curb and I jumped in so I could make it to work on time.

"Haven't seen you around lately, Sam," I said. "Been on vacation?" "Vacation nothing," he replied. "I been retired. But now I have retired myself, and I feel better."

"Tell me about it, Sam," I said, knowing I could no more halt him than I could have held back the Johnstown flood with a wet sponge.

Looking back now I realize what a stupid way that is to waste your life. "So I finally hit the 65-mark a few weeks ago, and that's enough for me. I give the old hack a goodby kick in the tires, the boss and the boys at the garage hand-me a couple of bottles, and—like Jackie Gleason says—away I go." "Way—can't you find nobody better than me to talk to?" "Well, I started hanging out at the old garage again, but it wasn't the same. I didn't feel right. "And, to tell the truth, "So I told my wife, let's jump in the first few days wasn't too bad, the old bus and drive down and see Max. That's my brother who's got on each other's nerves. She retired in Florida said, 'I can't just sit around all day playing gin runny with you. I got to clean this house.' I tell where he and a lot of other old her, 'you been cleaning this house couples had bought some of these for 42 years.' And she said, 'well, new little doghouse home.

Max, all these people gumme the life if they want to, but anything creeps. They're just sitting around that won't let you die and still in the sun waiting to die. "Max said it suited him, and I said, 'Well it don't suit me.' So I drove back to New York the next you can crawl back into your old back anytime you feel like it.' So I went to my old boss and retired myself right then and I'm going nuts doing nothing there, and, like I said, I never felt Beside this Social Security—me better. "After a man works 50 years, it's the only real pleasure in living he's got left."

Bewitching Ideas For Halloween Parties

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

These Delightful Pumpkin Jack-o-lanterns are baked apples studded with miniature marshmallow eyes and pecan halves for each nose and mouth. By a turn of the pecan mouth, the pumpkin can have either a sad or happy face. The cored-out center is filled with spiced marmalade and topped with a brown 'n serve sausage to make a realistic pumpkin stem.

Looks Sometimes Are Deceiving since these intriguing Halloween Party Faces are so easy to make. Old fashioned ginger snaps are stacked with softened pineapple cheese spread between each layer, then covered with sweetened whipped cream. Frosting secures wooden picks to other ginger snaps that become clever faces by first covering one side with the same fluffy frosting, then decorating with assorted candies. Assembled, the faces make an attractive collection of individual desserts that can double beautifully as party place cards, if desired.

Pair to Mark 50th Wedding Anniversary

CLINTONVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. William Buettner, route 3, Shawano, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary at a 2 to 6 p.m. open house Sunday at their home.

The couple was married Nov. 28, 1912 at the Evangelical United Brethren Church parsonage. Mr. Buettner is engaged in farming. Mr. and Mrs. Buettner have two children, Mrs. Leo Dillenberg and Wallace Buettner, both of route 3, Shawano. They also have nine grandchildren.

Black cats on fences and spooks in ditches . . . goblins and ghosties and broom-riding witches . . .

These are a few of the symbols of Halloween, the night of bewitching, masquerading and enjoyment of special goodies. Legend has it that jack-o-lanterns originated with a fun-loving Irishman of long ago named Jack, who played such outrageous tricks on the devil that he was condemned to wander around the world forever with only a lantern to light his way.

An older tradition centers about the bonfire or light, kept burning all night in early Celtic circles to ward away the evil spirits believed to be roaming the countryside until cock's crow on All Hallows or All Saints Day.

The trick-or-treat tradition so dear to the hearts of all Fox Cities young fry has grown from a combination of old folk costumes. The giving of apples and nuts stems from an ancient Roman festival that marked the autumnal season . . . and this gift-giving grew into the fun and prank concept of the mischievous night creatures of folk lore as the centuries rolled by.

The best idea of all to keep the gay and festive tradition is to have a Halloween party right at home. It's a pleasure to welcome diminutive, costumed trick-and-treaters early in the evening. Older children can help with this observance, then gather at private homes for a party all their own . . . a party filled with pranks under control, games and party foods such as these ideas offer.

Many of these recipes can be adapted to grown-up parties on the Halloween theme or used as ideas for other seasons of the year. The funny - face cookies, the doll centerpiece cake can be flower decorated for a spring party or shower. The Peanut Butter Goblin Rings, tinted a different hue, make pretty sandwiches for any social event and the apple pumpkins could serve well as a decorative dessert for a harvest party. So here they are for Halloween or otherwise.

1/4 teaspoon ground allspice
Butter
1 cup boiling water

Pour boiling water around apples. Bake in preheated, 375-degree oven 45 minutes, basting occasionally with syrup in dish. During the last five minutes of baking, insert one brown 'n serve sausage link in each apple to make stem of pumpkin. When apples are done, make small slits for eyes, nose and mouth. Insert three pecan halves in mouth slit, one pecan half for each nose and place a marshmallow in each eye slit. Serve hot with platter of sausages, if desired.

One of the Good Witches Is This lovely centerpiece and dessert for a children's Halloween party. Made of a pound cake mix baked in a tube pan, a seven inch or so is placed in the center hole of the cake. Her frosting dress is a seven minute icing tinted orange and piped over the cake. The bodice and sleeves and spread over the cake to fashion the skirt. Thin black cone strips and bright candies form the decoration. A candy stick for nose and black paper cut complete the costume. At the right, an atmosphere of the Halloween occasion is added into a small pin with the face of a witch.

pieces or bits, licorice or necessary. Stick each skewer at tached to face in each chilled cookie stack before serving. The cookie faces may be made ahead of time and stored in the refrig-

Place ice cream on serving tray.
Remove foil to lower edge. Trim edges of ice cream to broom

Let Your Own Young Hobgoblins invite friends in for the evenings to play a few spooky games and then help with the refreshments. Bread rings, spread with circles of the ever popular peanut butter and orange marmalade can be decorated easily with raisin faces by helpful young hands. Have on hand a pitcher of fruit punch and such nibble foods as popcorn, dry roasted peanuts and Halloween candy. Decorative paper plates, cups and napkins add a gay touch to the table and make clean up tasks easy after the party is over.

Your Problems

Self-Annoointed Oracle Creates
More Problems Than He Solves

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS Your column has had numerous letters dealing with mother-in-law problems. This one is about a father-in-law.

My husband's father is refined, educated and devoted to his family. He also has a very high opinion of himself. He enjoys playing the role of counselor and priest. When a member of the family gets out of line or appears to be having a problem he writes them long letters of advice. Perhaps this is commendable but he doesn't realize that unsolicited advice can be resented.

It wouldn't be so bad if he just sent the advice but he sends carbons of his letters (as well as copies of the replies) to other members of the family.

One of our married sons is having marital difficulties. The carbons and copies are flying thick and fast. Our son and his wife are furious. They didn't ask for his advice and they never intended that their replies be circulated.

We hate to offend the old gentleman but we wish he would stop it. Any suggestions will be appreciated. — E. T.

Dear E. T.: And pray tell, how in the world has your father-in-law been able to get away with this? He must be very rich.

At some point someone ought to say, "Thanks a lot but don't write me any more of your supreme court opinions." And this should be said on the telephone or in person. Any one who puts anything in writing to this self-annointed oracle is clearly out of his mind.

DEAR ANN LANDERS I'm 23 and engaged to a very fine man. His mother has invited me to spend Thanksgiving in her home. I'm looking forward to it with great pleasure.

I am unsure about how much housework I should do when I get there. I know she has a large home but I don't know if she has any servants. Should I offer to help clear the table if there is no maid?

Do I make my own bed? Should I offer to help cook?

Please give me some pointers. Ann I am eager to do the right thing but I don't know what is proper. Thank you.

—Avid Reader

Dear Reader: A houseguest always picks up after herself and attempts to make her own bed, servants or no.

If there are servants you would not of course help clear the table or offer to cook. If there are no servants ask your future mother-in-law what you can do to help. The most common mistake is to insist on "helping" when the hostess would prefer that you not.

DEAR ANN LANDERS I dated an extremely attractive and lively young woman for several months. I happen to be the generous type. When I court a young woman I enjoy giving her flowers, gifts and lots of little surprises. You may think I'm a chump but I derive great pleasure from giving. Last week this young lady told me I am a bore and to please get lost. This is perfectly all right with me but I feel it is only fair that she return some of my more valuable gifts. To be specific I have asked for the hi-fi set, the pearl ring and necklace and the little black sweater with the white fox collar.

The young lady is only 19 years of age and she doesn't know it's a sign of good upbringing to return gifts when the romance is over. I've tried to educate her along these lines but she has told me to climb a weed. What can I do about this grasping immature chisler? — Badly burned.

Dear Burned: Since you give for the sheer pleasure of giving, you've already reaped your reward — what more do you want?

Gifts presented during courtship belong to the lady. She is under no obligation to return anything except an engagement ring. And then — only if she breaks the engagement.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Plan First, Then Play

It's hard to look nine tricks ahead, but don't complain about it. If you never got a hard hand to play you'd be bored with bridge.

South won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and saw that he could ruff one spade in dummy and discard another on the king of diamonds. This seemed like a pretty sure thing, so he returned a spade at once.

East won with the ace of spades and returned a trump to declarer's ace. South led a spade to dummy, discarded a spade on the king of diamonds and ruffed a diamond. Then he ruffed his last spade with dummy's ten of trumps.

Trifling Matter

There remained only the trifling matter of getting back to his own hand to draw the rest of the trumps. Unfortunately, dummy had nothing but clubs.

Declarer had to cash the ace of clubs and then lead the king of clubs in the hope that both would get by. Disaster struck at the ninth trick, when West ruffed the king of clubs.

Mind you, South saw his danger when he had nothing but clubs to lead from the dummy. His problem was that he hadn't foreseen this when he started the hand.

It should be clear that South cannot make the hand with a 5-0 club break. Sooner or later one of the defenders will ruff a club. But South can surely make the hand against a 4-1 break if he adopts the right line of play.

At the second trick, South should lead a club to dummy's ace. He discards a club on the king of diamonds and ruffs a club. He gets back to dummy with the ten of trumps and ruffs another club. Then he draws trumps.

By this time the clubs are set up, and South can lead a spade to force entry to the dummy. He eventually gets back with another spade to run the good clubs and fulfill the slam contract.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes. You hold, S-A-J-6; H-5-4; D-8-7-5-2; C-Q-J-10-6. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs. Even if partner has opened on a 3 card suit, he can pass and play the hand in clubs.

Nov. 1 Program On Meat Cookery

Information and demonstrations on how to select, prepare and serve meat for the family will be presented to Outagamie County homemakers in a "Meats for Modern Living" program at Kaukauna High School next Thursday night.

The program, scheduled for 8 p.m., is open to all homemakers interested in meat cookery, according to Mrs. Kathleen Walsh, county home agent.

The educational program on meat will be conducted by some of the nation's authorities on food and nutrition from the University of Wisconsin. On hand to give demonstrations will be Charlotte Dunn, Mary Beeler, Quin Kolb and Robert Bray, all university specialists in the field.

The program will consist of a series of demonstrations on meat selection, cutting and identification of retail cuts and preparation. Care and storage of meat, nutritional values and principles of meat cookery will be discussed.

Demonstrations also will center on less expensive meat cuts and show the versatility of pork, lamb, liver.

Outdoor meat cookery and meat buyman'ship also will be a highlight of the program.

The "Meats for Modern Living" series is being conducted in several Wisconsin cities during October and November as part of a consumer education program in the state. The various programs are being sponsored jointly by the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, the University of Wisconsin, the National Live Stock and Meat Board, the Wisconsin Livestock and Meat Council and the Outagamie County Agricultural and Home Economics Extension Service.

Kaukauna homemaker groups are assisting with the program for Outagamie County.

Book for the Cook

Famed 'Joy of Cooking' Started Out as Family Recipe Collection

BY INEZ ROBB

When I read the obituary of Mrs. Irma S. Rombauer last week, I felt that I had lost one of my best friends.

Even though I had never seen or met the 83-year-old author of "The Joy of Cooking."

Her masterpiece has been a lamp unto my culinary feet for so many years that I sometimes thought of her as a member of the household. Indeed, through her book, I have spread domestic peace and tranquility through the land for almost a quarter of a century.

For years I have mailed a copy of "The Joy of Cooking" to my friends and then to my friends' children when they were married. In all modesty, it seems to me that no writer of advice to the lovelorn can or could do more to make marriage a happy and an honorable estate.

Started as Pamphlet

Since the genesis of her famous book began with a pamphlet designed for a bride—her own daughter, Mrs. Marion R. Becker of Cincinnati—it was and is a helping hand to the newlywed.

(It was always Mrs. Rombauer's wise contention that any woman could learn to cook if (1) she could read and (2) could tell when water boiled. Ergo, there is no excuse for poor cooking.)

Her daughter's friends kept Mrs. Rombauer so busy copying the 100 recipes she had selected for Mrs. Becker that eventually the author expanded the recipes to 350 and had them mimeographed. She gave them away with no thought of profit.

Finally, it occurred to Mrs. Rombauer, a widow, that there might be money in a cookbook. So she added another 350 recipes, making 700 in all, and had the book printed in 1931 at her own expense. The title she chose, "The Joy of Cooking," was not so much a name as a message.

The book enjoyed a pleasant enough sale in St. Louis, Mrs. Rombauer's home town, but it was not until Bobbs-Merrill took it over in 1934 that "The Joy of Cooking" began its slow growth into a national institution. It jogged along, selling 8,000 to 10,000 copies annually until 1943. Then one of the most dynamic Americans who ever lived, Wendell Willkie, defeated presidential aspirant, accidentally sent its sales skyrocketing.

In that year, Willkie's own book, "One World," was the No. 1 best-seller all over the nation with the single exception of St. Louis. In that city, "One World" played second fiddle to a new edition of "The Joy of Cooking" by its hometown author.

Mrs. Rombauer, always a shy woman who could seldom be coaxed to make a public appearance, picked up her courage and her pen and wrote Willkie. She apologized prettily for the fact that she and St. Louis had kept him and his book from a clean sweep of first honors from coast to coast.

In turn, Willkie wrote Mrs. Rombauer a charming missive saying he was delighted to yield honors to her in St. Louis, since Mrs. Willkie had used "The Joy of Cooking" as a kitchen Bible for several years. There followed a note from Edith Willkie.

The delightful correspondence between the three was widely printed around the nation. It sent the sale of the cookbook skyrocketing to 75,000 copies in 1943. (That is the famous wartime edition of the cookbook, which many cooks still cherish. The resourceful Mrs. Rombauer, mindful of wartime shortages, wrought a miracle by coming up with an Angel Food Cake that called for only two eggs instead of the traditional 12 to 13).

Ever since Wendell Willkie lent a helping hand, the Rombauer cookbook has sold 90,000 to 100,000 copies annually, an inspiration to women and a godsend to the men they feed. The book, which started out as a handful of family recipes set down for a bride, made Mrs. Rombauer a millionaire.

No woman ever earned money more gloriously or was a greater benefactor to mankind in the process. Ave atque vale, with a helping hand, the Rombauer cookbook has sold 90,000 to 100,000

Mother's Helper

by Heianna & Pearson

"PASS THE HAT" is a different slant on a familiar party game. This one uses sturdy party hats. Players sit or stand in a circle, all but one wearing a hat. When the music starts the hatless one takes her neighbor's hat and places it on her own head. The player who's hatless when the music stops is eliminated. One hat is removed from the game. Continue until one hat and two players decide the winner.

Designing Woman

BY ELIZABETH HILLIER

Unified Wall Design

The best-solved room problem wall turns disadvantages into advantages. With the hanging of fabric from corner to corner, windows no longer look too near the bed, but fortunately placed to avoid limited space and cut-up walls dictated by the location of the bed with the head end between two windows, on wall only a few inches wider than a headboard, shallow canopy. The drawer chests might look crowded into too small space if they were separate from the bed; but as they are, they seem to complete the bed design.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Miller, D.V.M.

Q. What care should be given a colt with a navel infection? Michele Plumb, Rockford, Mich.

A. When a colt is born the navel is an open invitation for all types of infection. This is one of the most dangerous things for a young colt. Infections enter through the navel and spread through the body in what we call navel ill. Sometimes it settles in body joints and is referred to as joint ill. You should have a veterinarian examine your colt immediately. To prevent this infection I always advise my clients to have a bottle of veterinary iodine on hand to disinfect the colt's navel as soon as it is born. This should be repeated two or three times during the first 24 hours. It's the surest protection I know of against this dangerous condition.

Dr. Miller will send books on pet care to readers submitting best questions. Mail yours on a postcard in care of this paper.

Minding Your Business

By Cyrus Barrett, Jr.

THOSE WHO CAN LEAST AFFORD BULKING
GET HURT THE MOST

DEAR CY:

Let's be reasonable. The public is never going to stop being bilked of their money by scheming salesmen.

I am in the real estate business and was interested in your comments on Hawaiian and New Mexican land frauds. My interest, however, is purely academic since the public is standing in line to be trimmed. They want to make a fast killing and don't care when the property is located. When they buy the property, they think riches are going to start flowing their way by return mail. Anyone who will spend money on land they haven't seen and know nothing about has no sympathy due. So quit harping about land frauds.

DEAR ARTHUR:

It could be you have more than a cursory acquaintance with real estate frauds... and that your interest is not "purely academic." Usually the people who can least afford to be swindled get hurt the worst. They must be informed and protected. Legitimate real estate operators are losing millions of dollars each year to out-of-town real estate sharks. It's time real estate men shouldered the responsibility of informing the public.

sands of workers to leave their jobs. We hear of it every day. In retraining these unfortunate people for other work, electronic teaching machines are often used. The result is a reduction in the number of teachers. So instructors who are helping retrain workers displaced by automation are displacing themselves by automation. Also the displaced workers who allow themselves to be retrained by automated methods of teaching are displacing their teachers. For the good of this country, I suggest retrainees refuse to be schooled by machines.

WELLER

DEAR WELLER: This country is in a retraining vice that is going to squeeze the life out of a lot of people. We need the fastest, most efficient teaching methods devised. Automated teaching can reduce learning time 20 to 50 per cent. Proportionately fewer teachers will eventually be used, but the number of people desperate for retraining will swell. Those who pay for their own retraining can save money learning by automation. Suppose a $5,000-per-year man or woman has retraining time out from 6 months to 3 months through programmed instruction; that's a saving of $1,250 in earning power.

DEAR CY:

I couldn't believe my ears when I heard Sears Roebuck is going to sell paintings. This would suit me just fine as I am an artist who took up art recently. People say my work is "terrific." I also heard actor Vincent Price is doing the selecting of paintings for Sears. Will they show pictures in the catalog or hang them in stores? How do I submit my $10 for carrying an uncased gun paintings for selling through in Sears? How does this work?

DEAR PAINTER:

Here's a new market outlet for artistic talent! Photos and descriptions of art work should be submitted to Frank C. Stover, Sears Roebuck, Dept. 621, Chicago. He will turn your material over to Vincent Price who makes the selections. Works chosen are organized in 10 groups of 62 paintings. Beginning this October, they will travel across the United States simultaneously. Cash in your artistic abilities!

DEAR CY:

Here's a modern paradox for you. Automation is forcing thou-

Little Chute Boy Shot While on Fox River Walk

LITTLE CHUTE — Village police are investigating a complaint by Mrs. Raymond Tiesling, 231½ S. Grant Ave., Little Chute, that her 13-year-old son James was shot while walking along the canal bank of the Fox River about 4 p.m. Wednesday. The youth received a minor break in the skin above the left eye. It is not known what type of gun the bullet came from. The youth told police he was walking along the river and heard a shot. He continued walking and suddenly felt blood running into his eye. Police searched the river bank, and the dump area for hunters or persons engaged in target practice, but found no one.

Opposition to Dam Voiced at Antigo Meeting

Charge Structure May Warm River, Cause Fish to Die

ANTIGO — Opposition to the proposed Wolf River dam to be located in Langlade County near Person was voiced at a meeting of the Langlade County Board of Supervisors Tuesday, but no action was taken either to appropriate funds for the construction of the dam or to pass a resolution invalidating the board's previous decision in favor of the dam. The dam, first proposed by the county board in 1958, and its legality since upheld by the state's Supreme Court though opposed by many sportsmen and conservationists, would be erected at the county highway bridge across the river and create an impoundment stretching back 11 miles to the Post Lake flowage.

The board limited the number of speakers wishing to be heard on their reasons for opposing the dam to two, and set a 10-minute time limit on each speaker. Two Langlade County residents, Herb Buettner, White Lake, and Dr. Robert Cromer, Antigo, appeared before the board protesting the construction of the dam. Others interested in the conservation of the river for the trout fishermen, including a supervisor from the Menominee County board and a representative of the State Conservation Department, were unable to do so because of the board's stipulation.

Buettner had gone before the Northeastern Wisconsin Conservation Council last week to oppose the dam. At that time, the council reversed its earlier decision and went on record as objecting to the proposed dam. Buettner's key point, supported by testimony from the Conservation Department, was that the proposed flowage would rise to such a degree that when it spilled through the dam, it would raise the river temperature to a level later which would kill off the trout population. The critical water temperature for trout has already been reached in the Wolf River, Buettner said. Any warming of the water would make the river uninhabitable for trout.

The booklet, "The Real Look at Buettner also expressed doubt the flowage would provide a very satisfactory new recreation area for the county. The proposed 1,600-acre impoundment, he said, would result in an average depth of not over trout population, which Buettner three feet over the marshy, weed-and others consider to be its choked area, providing neither for asset.

Appleton Hires 2nd Sanitarian; Starts Dec 1

Council Approves Appointment of Fond du Lac Man

The City of Appleton hired a second sanitarian Wednesday night for the health department. The common council confirmed the appointment of Donald Day, Fond du Lac, at a monthly salary of $660 and a $55 monthly car allowance, effective Dec. 1.

Dr. Marvin S. Kagen, city health commissioner, said recently he wants to obtain personnel for the health department so that it will be capable of performing the services expected of it. At present, William Moldenhauer is the department's only sanitarian. It does not have a registered nurse on the staff.

In his 1963 budget request, Dr. Kagen is requesting the city to hire a third sanitarian. He has been trying to fill the nurse vacancy.

Hiring of Day, who has been employed in the Fond du Lac health department, was recommended by the board of health and the council's personnel and finance committees.

Aldermen Derald H. Ahrens and Allan Sonkowsky voted against the appointment. Eventual Dr. Robert Cromer, Antigo, appeared before the board protesting the construction of the dam.

The council concurred in the recommended promotion of Hugo Strehlow from inspector to lieutenant. The silted water seeping through and around the dam would also dirty the river below.

Cromer asked that the board plans to build the dam. Conflicting testimony has been given both for and against the dam's construction, he stated, and urged that the board proceed with caution so that it might not make a mistake which later could not be corrected.

A booklet setting forth reasons for opposing the dam was circulated among county board members during the morning, but was attacked by Chairman Walter Diercke as making false statements on several points and in the Wolf River, Buettner said. Any warming of the water would make the river uninhabitable for trout.

The booklet, "The Real Look at Buettner also expressed doubt the flowage would provide a very satisfactory new recreation area for the county. The proposed 1,600-acre impoundment, he said, would result in an average depth of not over trout population, which Buettner three feet over the marshy, weed-and others consider to be its choked area, providing neither for asset.

Church Plans Anniversary In Kaukauna

Special Services To Honor 75th Year For Methodists

KAUKAUNA — The seventy-fifth anniversary of the Methodist Church will be observed at special services at 10:45 a.m. Sunday with the Rev. Herbert Lane, Evansville, former pastor, as guest speaker.

The church was founded in 1885 by Mr. and Mrs. Norman H. Brokaw who had moved to Kaukauna from Marinette to engage in the manufacture of pulp. The church was formed with eight charter members. Within two years a $5,500 church was built, and the next year a $1,200 parsonage was erected.

The church was first known as the Brokaw Memorial Methodist Church. A few years later the Brokaw built the Epworth home and donated it to the church. Minor improvements were made in the church and parsonage through the years until 1953 when a major addition to the church was built under the direction of Pastor George Buchanan. The addition was dedicated in 1954.

Noon Luncheon

The church has been served by 25 pastors since its founding. L. C. Smith will comment on the history of the church at the anniversary service and the senior choir will provide special music. Organists will be Mrs. Malcolm Jacobson and Miss Blanche Gerend.

A noon luncheon will be served in Fellowship Hall for church members and their families, former parishioners and friends. Entertainment at the luncheon will be provided by a former church quartet composed of Smith, Enck, Burdick, Ralph Bastian and Robert Lacey. Pastor at the present time is the Rev. Robert Edwards.

Flint Junior College Students Protest Ban Of Paper's Publication

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Six Flint Junior College students have gone to U.S. District Court seeking a restraining order against the Flint Board of Education interfering with publication of "College Journal," the Flint J.C. student newspaper.

Publication was ordered suspended by school officials Oct. 2 on grounds the newspaper was not fulfilling functions of a college publication.

The suspension was lifted Oct. 5, but student editors refused to resume publication under new policies laid down by Dr. Lewis R. Fabel, dean of the junior college. The students claimed in their suit Dean Fabel wants to stifle student opinion that differs from his private views.

Head-on Crash Puts Three in Hospital

Two persons were treated and released and one was confined to the Appleton Memorial Hospital Wednesday after a two-car head-on collision on State 47 near Black Creek about 5:40 p.m.

Treated and released were Diamond Teran, 23, and Constance Teran, 18, both with cuts and bumps. In good condition at the hospital is Willis Maschinsky, 38, route 1, Black Creek, who received cuts on his face and bruises.

Outagamie County police said the accident occurred when a car driven by Jesus Sandoval Teran, 49, Black Creek, was traveling south on 47 and swerved into the opposite lane to avoid another car. Teran's car was then involved in the collision with a car going north on State 47, being driven by David F. Zarnoth, 27, route 1, Black Creek. Maschinsky was a passenger in the Zarnoth car.

Service Center Ends Workshop With Study of Hypothetical Case

Appleton Teachers Study How Emotionally Disturbed Children Are Helped

Members of the Appleton public schools' Child Service Center. These included, first, Miss Lucille Lang, worked with a hypothetical case school nurse, and Mrs. Bel Han at the final session of the teachers' workshop Wednesday to demonstrate how they help children with emotional problems.

The two "key people," explained Assistant Superintendent of Schools William H. Spears, are the classroom teacher and the building principal, who are helped by resource people with special training in specific areas.

The Child Service Center was organized this fall, with the aim of closer coordination of several departments. It includes the attendance, health, psychometric, psychological and social service departments.

Discuss Child

The demonstration, made up of a series of discussions among staff members, started with Mrs. Mary Quilling, a teacher, coming to principal James Murphy to discuss a child who was working below her ability in class, who had problems of cleanliness and of getting along with other children, who frequently missed school, and who had a bad home situation, where her parents were separated after a long period of difficulties.

In seeking a solution to the problems, they conferred with members of the various sections.

Winnebago County May Get Homemaker

Welfare Department Survey Ended; Applications for Job Being Taken

OSHKOSH — A survey of the need for homemaker service has been completed by the Winnebago County Welfare Department, according to Miss Mary Pedersen, State Department of Public Welfare, who is setting up the pilot program in Winnebago County.

She said other agencies in the county also co-operated in supplying information on the number of homemaker service requests they received during the last year.

Miss Pedersen said four applications for the homemaker position have been received. She said one of the applicants will be hired when the county receives certification of the applicants from the State Bureau of Personnel.

Mrs. Evelyn Beirnard, director of the Neenah-Menasha Family Service, reported that during a nine month period they received 70 requests for homemaker service. Miss Eileen Remmel, director, Neenah VNA, reported they received 14 requests in a four month period, and Mrs. Dorothy Mitchell, Oshkosh VNA, said they receive a few requests a month.

The Rev. Ralph Hermesen, Oshkosh Apostolate, also estimated they receive one to two requests a month for homemaker service and the Rev. Richard Wochenske, Menasha Apostolate, said they received 12 requests in the last year.

County Welfare Department caseworkers estimated 32 of the cases now receiving aid could use homemaker assistance.

Of these 32 families, welfare workers reported 17 could be helped through teaching better housekeeping and management methods and care of children; nine families could be aided by the homemaker through actual day to day care in the home.

Four of the families would need care in the near future to enable them to continue living in their own homes, and in two families relatives were able to assist the family.

Illness Hindered Caseworkers also reported, Miss Pedersen said, that in four families children were placed in other homes because of illness of the parents. She said with the help of a homemaker these children could have remained in their own homes.

She said they also reported 11 old age assistance recipients who entered homes for the aged or nursing homes during the last year who could have remained in their own homes if a homemaker had been available.

Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent, will assist in training the homemaker in nutrition and meal planning, budgets and household management. Miss Pedersen said plans are being made to secure training in care of the ill, child care, and care of the aged.

Byrnes, Laird Go to Chicago

Conferring With Representative Of White House

Rep. John Byrnes, Green Bay, and Rep. Melvin Laird, Marshfield, were scheduled to be in Chicago this afternoon to attend a briefing on the Cuban situation by a White House official.

Byrnes, who was campaigning in Manitowoc County, dropped his afternoon schedule to fly with Laird at noon from Manitowoc. Byrnes planned to be back in Manitowoc County tonight to speak at the annual county farm bureau meeting at Alverno.

Byrnes is chairman of the Republican Policy Committee in the House and top ranking Republican on the House Ways and Means Committee. Laird is a member of the House Appropriations Committee and its subcommittee on defense appropriations.

Meetings of a similar nature were staged in New York City, Atlanta, Fort Worth and San Francisco.

The meetings were geared to give legislators and governors the kind of secret information that 20 congressional leaders received when they met at the White House Wednesday with President Kennedy.

In addition to Byrnes and Laird, Gov. Gaylord Nelson broke off his campaigning for a Senate seat to attend the briefing.

The governor had scheduled 14 campaign stops in Racine during the day.

Fund Drive for St. Paul Home Exceeds $4,000

KAUKAUNA — The second phase of the drive to raise funds for an addition to the St. Paul Home has passed the $4,000 mark, leaving an additional $41,000 to be raised, according to an announcement made to drive captains at a meeting Tuesday night.

Overall in the first and second phase drives, over $120,000 has been raised. An effort is being made to complete the drive this year, to make possible the start of construction on the 17-room addition early in 1963. Completion of work is planned the same year.

A fireproof addition is planned enabling the home to handle bedridden or crippled patients. The weekly report indicates nearly $1,000 was added to the drive last week.

Appleton Council Promotes Regional, Local Planning

New City Department Will be Established; Funds Approved

The Appleton Common Council Wednesday night took two major strides to boost local and regional planning.

While keeping discussion at a minimum, the council:

1. Agreed to establish a city planning department and include funds in the 1963 budget for that purpose.
2. Insured Appleton's continued membership in the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission by appropriating $9,511 as the city's share of the commission's proposed 1963 budget.

System Changed

At present, the city has a planning division within its public works department. As result of the informal action taken by the council during a meeting as a whole, this would be changed and additional planning personnel will be hired.

Walter Rasmussen, the city's planner and traffic engineer, had recommended that a planning department eventually be established. Mayor Clarence Mitchell also favored such an arrangement.

Instead of having a one-man planning staff, it appears Appleton will have at least three planners. The proposed department of planning would consist of a director and two other planners.

Acting Public Works Director Henry Crowe had no objection to separating the planning division from his department. Aldermen generally felt more emphasis will have to be placed on city planning in the coming months as major public and private projects are undertaken.

Opinion Expressed

Some aldermen said establishment of the city planning department in 1963 would tie in with the new staff operation to be undertaken by the regional planning commission. They expressed the

Halloween Duty Set for All Police

To curtail possible vandalism Halloween night all 66 members of the Appleton Police Department will draw some form of duty. Some patrolmen will get extra duty during the night shift.

The governor had scheduled 14 campaign stops in Racine during the day.

Wolff ordered all members of the department to report to the station at 6 p.m. Wednesday. Men who have worked the day shift will work into the night until they are relieved by the captain in charge.

Men whose normal day off falls next Wednesday will report for the extra detail at 6 p.m. Men on night duty will be assigned special beats and will patrol until released. Then the men will go to their normal beats until their shift is completed.

In a bulletin issued today Wolff ordered his men not to loiter in restaurants or other places during the special duty. He urged the men to be seen as much as possible to discourage anyone from vandalism.

Detectives will team with squad car patrolmen in motorized patrols. Seven motorcycles will be in use. Patrolmen pacing beats will be working in teams of two throughout the evening.

3 Per Cent Figure Being Viewed; Too Many Requests Apparently Make Merit System Unworkable

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton's 400 city employees can look forward to an across-the-board pay raise in 1963.

The common council, after receiving a discouraging report from the personnel committee that the city's so-called pay plan was in trouble, arrived at the decision Wednesday night during an informal session.

A 3 per cent wage boost is being given serious consideration by the personnel and finance committees. If granted, it would mean between $50,000 and $65,000 would have to be included in next year's budget to cover the salary boosts.

It was disclosed by Alderman R. P. Groh, personnel committee chairman, that the original intent of the city administration was to follow the pay plan and job classification program established last year by the state bureau of personnel.

In recent hearings at city hall, department heads bombarded the personnel committee with so many requests for merit raises for city employees that it threw a wrench in the plan's operating machinery. Confronted with the dilemma of everyone seeking a merit raise, the committee called upon the council as a whole for assistance.

"If a general wage increase is granted by the common council, we may still be able to salvage the pay plan," Groh told his colleagues.

Groh said the personnel committee had called for the meetings with department heads this year, as in the past, with hopes of following the pay plan and job classification.

"Every department and board head we talked with wanted merit increases for everyone—barring none," Groh declared. It appeared again this year, as in the past, that the meaning of "merit increase" was misinterpreted.

Groh said there was a feeling among committee members that there should be a general increase in wages and salaries of city employees. "We did not want to recommend the increases requested under the merit system because it would destroy the plan," Groh said.

Can Salvage It "If we do something on a percentage basis, we can salvage our plan," Groh said.

After listening to the merit pay requests of the department heads, who also recommended their own salary boosts, the committee decided it would do nothing until discussing the matter with all the aldermen.

"We want to see what the temperature is here toward a general raise next year," was the way Groh put it to his fellow aldermen. He said it would be necessary for the common council to give a consensus vote favoring blanket increases and then the personnel committee would take it from there.

Alderman Mrs. Dorothy Stilcous, a committee member, said she went to Madison and conferred with officials of the state personnel department. She said that if increases were to be granted city workers in 1963, it should be on a percentage basis.

Can Justify It "I was told the increased cost of living during the past year varied little and does not justify

Sister Clementia
Worked 50 Years
In Medical Field

Sister Mary Clementia, 75, who had worked in the surgical department at St. Elizabeth Hospital for 50 years, died unexpectedly Wednesday of a heart attack.

Sister Clementia, a pioneer at St. Elizabeth, was supervisor of surgery from the time she came to St. Elizabeth in July of 1912 until her retirement in 1956. She continued to administer anesthetics after her retirement as supervisor, and Wednesday morning had used a new drug in administering an anesthetic for an operation.

Over a 25-year period she had administered anesthetics for every operation performed at the hospital. She also made it her special task to visit many of the patients.

Born in Germany

Sister Clementia was born Aug. 26, 1887, in Munich, Germany. Her maiden name was Rose Vogt. She came to the United States with her parents at the age of 12.

In 1909 she entered the order of the Franciscan Sisters, Daughters of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and came to St. Elizabeth Hospital in 1912 after she had completed her nursing training at St. Anthony Hospital in St. Louis.

She and another nurse were alone in the surgical department then to assist the four Appleton physicians who performed operations at St. Elizabeth at that time. There were no anesthetists then, and the doctors administered ether or chloroform.

Newer methods of anesthesia were developed, and Sister Clementia was licensed as an anesthetist. She saw many innovations in the surgical department, as new operations, new techniques for older operations and new machines took their place in surgery.

Snow, Winds Lash Great Lakes Region

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wintry-like weather, with snow, unseasonable temperatures and gusty northerly winds, chilled millions today from the Rockies to northern Florida.

The vast mass of cold Canadian air which tumbled temperatures to record lows for the date in some areas Wednesday dipped southward into the Gulf coastal states.

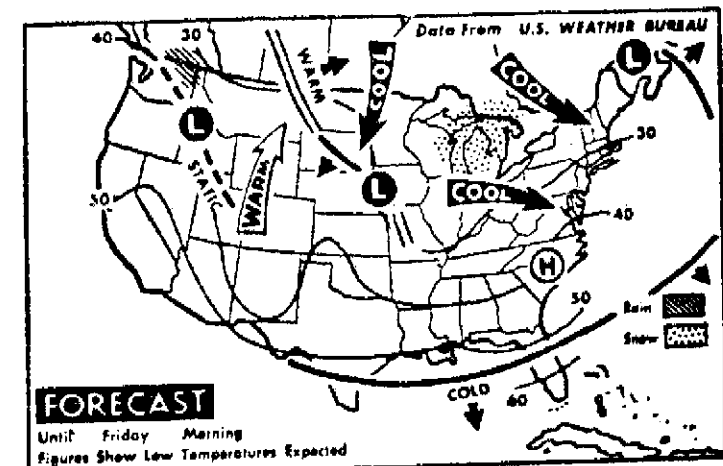

Freezing weather—the season's coldest—was reported in parts of Virginia, North Carolina and Alabama as the cold air spread southward. Temperatures were in the 30s in many sections of the Carolinas, Virginia, Alabama and Georgia. Tallahassee, Fla., shivered in 38-degree temperature, far below normal.

A fresh batch of cold air pushed across the Canadian border and centered in the Dakotas. Temperatures dropped into the 20s and lower in the northern Plains. Readings were in the 30s in most of the northeast quarter of the country.

More snow and snow mixed with rain fell across broad areas in the Great Lakes region and the Ohio Valley. Strong winds lashed most of the wet belt. Gale warnings were posted on the western Great Lakes. The snow in the nation's midsection extended southward as far as Missouri and southern Illinois. Falls in most places were light.

Man, 46, Held on Morals Charge

John G. Potvine, 806 W. Franklin St. was ordered held in Outagamie County jail pending payment of $1,500 bond after he was arraigned in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2, Wednesday. He was charged with taking indecent liberties with a minor.

Potvine was arrested Tuesday night by Appleton police who said the incident with a 9-year-old girl occurred in the man's apartment Tuesday. County Judge Gustave Keller ordered a preliminary hearing for Friday.

very bright and with a definite capacity to be a leader.

With the mother's permission, the child was referred to the social service department, where the psychologist, the school social worker, and the psychiatrist worked with her.

At a final conference of all the persons involved with the study, they discussed how she could best be helped. Raymond Kluver, school psychologist, explained he would continue to work with her through play therapy and would have regularly scheduled conferences with her mother. He suggested ways in which the teacher might work with her, and planned periodic conferences with Mrs. Quilling.

Dr. Ely Sires, supervisor of mental health with the state department of public instruction, Madison, spoke briefly to the teachers after the demonstration. Questions that they might ask, he said, are "Is this really my business? What is my role?"

Need Cooperation

Traditionally school staffs have looked on the "non-conflicted" or positive part of a child's life, and clinicians have looked at the "conflicted" areas of the personality, he said.

But both have found that they cannot do this job alone, because the child is a total entity, he said.

He offered two areas of speculation:

1. How the teacher can enhance the mental health of boys and girls, and help alleviate problems which already exist.

2. How the special service persons in the school and in state and local agencies can help remove or reduce problems which interfere with learning.

There is a great overlap between the areas the teacher and the clinician serve, and there will have to be much communication and exchange of ideas between them, he said.

Council Gives Okay on Percentage Pay Hike

salary raises on that basis," Mrs. Stillings said.

"However, I was also told that in an area such as Appleton where competition is strong for the labor market," Mrs. Stillings continued, "we would have a valid reason to do something in the way of a general increase."

The chairman of the council's finance committee, Ald. Alvin Tews, said he came to the conclusion quite some time ago that a merit system program was not workable in all areas of employment.

"Apparently all of the city employees asked for the one-step increase and the only thing that we can do is grant a general or across-the-board increase for next year," Tews said.

Tews pointed out, however, that he thought inequities existed in some city departments and that some people are entitled to merit raises in addition to whatever general increase might be granted. Tews made it one of the stipulations of the consensus vote.

"We want the council to tell us right now what it thinks of this general wage increase proposition so we will know in what direction to proceed," Groh said.

The council was unanimous that an increase be granted all city employees on a percentage basis. The personnel committee also got the green light to make recommendations for merit raises where inequities exist.

It will be up to the personnel and finance committees to make a decision on how much of an increase to grant. During personnel meetings of recent weeks, department heads were asked their reaction to a 2 to 3 per cent blanket increase in lieu of the requested merit raises.

The salary situation is practically a repeat of history. In 1961 the common council decided to take a hard look at its pay policy. So nearly $80,000 in raises were granted 325 Appleton city workers on Jan. 1 as result of a new pay plan proposed by the state bureau of personnel.

Appleton's policy was to be a system of annual raises based on merit or performance of employees, rather than automatic annual increases.

The merit system had been thrown out by the city in 1960 when it became unwieldy because department heads then were misled reventes.

District Attorney Abandons Idea of Parttime Assistant

Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer said today he has abandoned the idea of seeking parttime help and will ask the county board to allow him to appoint a permanent assistant district attorney.

Schaefer was authorized by the county board's executive committee Monday to hire a parttime district attorney for a two-week period to begin immediately. The appointee was to receive $150 per week. At the end of the two-week period, the appointee was to be relieved.

Schaefer said today such an assistant could only be used for "footwork and paperwork" and would not be eligible to prosecute cases in county courts.

No DA Powers
In order to have full district attorney powers, Schaefer said, the job must be created by the majority vote of the county board. Schaefer said he will seek such action in November through the county board's courts and administration committee. He said he would like the appointment made "as soon as possible."

Schaefer said problems of rates of pay and other details would have to be determined by various county board committees. If the position is created, Schaefer said, it would not be under Civil Service and would allow succeeding district attorneys to appoint assistants.

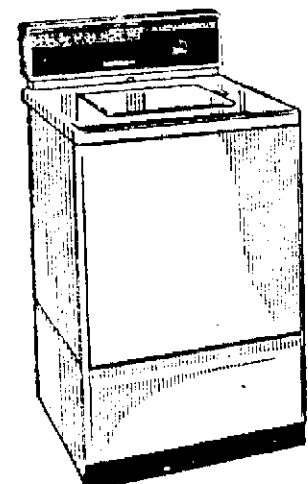

In seeking help Monday, Schaefer told the executive committee he was faced with a backlog of routine cases which must be cleared up soon. He said he has not been able to make adequate preparation for each case due to the workload.

Business Tax Cut Will be Welcome

BY SYLVIA PORTER

If you're a businessman, salesman, physician, dentist, accountant or in any other occupation where you buy depreciable equipment, autos, etc., in connection with your income-producing activities, you may find you are entitled to a completely unexpected tax cut when you prepare your 1962 income tax return.

If you report on a fiscal rather than a calendar year basis, you even may be entitled to a tax refund right now if you already have filed your return for a year ending in 1962.

This unanticipated tax bonanza comes from the new investment tax credit which is the heart of the 1962 Revenue Act signed by the President into law last week.

Economic Spur
A first point you easily might overlook is that while this tax credit is designed to spur economic activity and updating of America's industrial plant by encouraging businessmen to buy new equipment for modernization, it applies to all qualified purchases of equipment, regardless of why the equipment was bought.

A second point which has been obscured is that the credit is not limited just to businessmen.

Many others in the professions and trades who buy depreciable equipment in connection with their professions or for the production of income also are entitled to the credit.

For the overwhelming majority of business and professional men it will be just a happy windfall since they would have made their purchases of the equipment whether or not the credit was available. The Treasury itself estimates the tax savings pot created for those who buy machinery and equipment will come to $1 billion a year—and it's available for all qualified purchases starting with the years ending after 1961.

The new investment credit is, in effect, a tax rebate given to you on the purchase of depreciable tangible personal property such as autos, equipment, furniture, etc., used in a business or for the production of income (it doesn't apply to livestock or buildings).

But instead of giving you the rebate in cash, the Treasury lets you take the credit as a direct reduction of the tax you owe on your return. Thus, if your 1962 tax is $1,500 and your credit is $200, you will send the Internal Revenue Service only $1,300.

Cost Reduced
Since the credit is in the nature of a rebate, it reduces the cost of your asset in figuring depreciation. For example, if you buy equipment for $10,000 and are allowed a $700 credit, you can deduct $9,300, not $10,000, as depreciable over the life of the asset.

The credit isn't allowed equally on all depreciable tangible personal property. The odd result of this is that although the credit is designed to spur replacement of assets, you get the biggest credit the longer you intend to hold the assets.

If you plan to hold the assets for eight years or more, your credit is 7 per cent of the cost; for six to under eight years, the credit is 4-2-3 per cent and for four to under six years, 2-1-3 per cent. Thus, if you bought a $3,000 business auto this year which you keep for three years, you get no credit. But if you expect to use it four years, you get a credit of 2-1-3 per cent of $3,000 against your 1962 tax bill.

The credit is allowed in full in the year that you buy the asset, based on your estimate at that time on how long you expect to use it in the business. Say you buy $20,000 of business equipment on Dec. 30, 1962, and place it in service on that date, estimating that the equipment will be used for more than eight years. You can get an immediate credit of $1,400 to be used against your 1962 tax due in March or April 1963—even though you hold the equipment only one day in 1962.

Difference Returned
But if you miss on your estimate—get rid of it before eight years—you will have to return part or all of the credit you took in brief, you would have to refigure the credit based on how long you actually kept the asset, and pay back the difference to the Treasury.

Say in the above example, you sold the equipment in the sixth year of use. You would be entitled to a credit of only 4-2-3 per cent of $20,000, or $834. Since you had claimed $1,400, you would have to add $466 to the taxes you pay in the year you sold the equipment.

FREEDOM—The Women's Organizations of the Freedom Moravian Church have set today for the annual fall chili supper and bazaar.

Mrs. Edmund Lom is president of the Friendly Service Circle, and Mrs. Walter Trow of the Ladies Aid Society. Mrs. Ray Kurnow and Mrs. Alvin Jens head the committee in charge of arrangements.

Slight Dip in Business Seen Early in 1963

Economists Look For Expansion To Flatten Out

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Industry economists have predicted that the current business expansion will flatten out by the end of the year and turn down in the first quarter of 1963, the Business Council has been told.

The decline was expected to be slight however—less than $2 billion from the record $560-billion annual rate of national output foreseen by the end of this year.

After this dip of less than one-third of 1 per cent, the economy will "begin a renewed expansion in the second half of 1963," the spring's proposed $6-a-ton, 100 top industrialists attending the fall meeting of the Business Council were told.

Talk of Tax Cuts
Along with the report there was revived talk of federal tax cuts, business confidence, and business to boost the economy as the investment.

Dining Car Acquired by National Railroad Museum

A dining car in which many of the world's most famous persons dined has arrived at the National Railroad Museum. For 37 years the diner served on the famous New York to Miami run of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and the list of those who have dined in the famous diner reads like a political, economic and social history of the period from 1923 to 1960.

The car, which carried the bright purple and white of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, is now repainted in traditional Pullman colors and stands ready at the Museum to be inspected by visitors.

The new car, labeled the Dothan, was built by the Pullman Company in 1923 and went into immediate service. In 1934, the 48-person diner was joined to regular service on the famed Florida Special which began regular runs between New York and Miami.

Busiest Run
The routine designation of the car is ACL 563815 and that typical railroad designation hides the great history of all steel constructed six wheel trucked car. A visit to the new car will send visitors to imaginative heights as they reconstruct the far reaching conversations and plans that were developed as the train traveled one of America's busiest and most important runs.

Obtaining the car is considered a real triumph for the National Railroad Museum, and in the words of the Board Chairman, Harold Fuller, "All credit should go to Museum President, Verne M. Bushman, who developed details that led to the arrival of the Dothan at the museum."

The new diner has just been completely overhauled in the Waycross Georgia shops where the trucks and frame were rebuilt, a new paint cover was received and then with the best wishes of the Atlantic Coast Line was routed to Green Bay.

The car came from Waycross over ACL tracks to Birmingham, Ala., where Illinois Central took it to Chicago. The C&NW Railroad then moved the car to the museum.

North Central Has Top Winter Operating Record

Kept Up 95 Per Cent of Service Even in the Coldest Months

"When snow blows, we go!" That's been the rallying cry at North Central Airlines for many years and it's produced a remarkable winter operating record that's become the envy of the airline industry.

As examples of the extreme weather in which the airline operates, at International Falls, Minn., the mercury never rose above 35° all equipment during routine visits below zero for four consecutive days last winter. Bemidji, Minn., had a 72-hour period when temperatures varied from 40° below to 11° below.

Minneapolis and St. Paul had 48 days of sub-zero weather, with temperatures varied from 40° below to 11° below.

Station managers also make daily inspections of all equipment and note on a wall chart such as oil has been checked, 48 days of sub-zero weather, with temperatures varied from 40° below to 11° below.

Minot, N.D., is accustomed to staffs are required to check and having 65-knot winds howl across the state.

Heavy Snow Sioux Falls, S.D., staggered out from under 32 inches of snow that fell in just 22 hours. For the past, the two winters at Hancock and Houghton, Mich., snowfall averaged trends, periods of high wind velocity 210 inches. Drifts were piled so high along airport runways that taxiing planes were hidden then be made for additional manpower from view. Muskegon, Mich., re-power, protective materials, or wacke.

Although the company experiment so that delays and cancellations adverse weather conditions can be prevented," Carr over most of its system from late explained.

October to March, its year-round. A close liaison also is maintained between local North Central stations and the U.S. weather bureau. The operating performance factor over 97 and 99 per cent for information on wind velocity, even in the worst winter months, performance doesn't drop below 95 per cent.

the next day are issued by North Central's flight control in Minneapolis-St. Paul to supplement the stations' own material derived from regional and terminal forecasts, hourly weather sequences, and contact with the weather bureau.

Such items as temporary inside storage for automotive equipment, jumper cables for battery hook-ups to start sluggish ground equipment, readily available snow shovels, mops for de-icing wings and tail surfaces, sand for ice-slicked gate positions, energizers, oil immersion heaters, are discussed.

"We have an excellent operating record," Carr said. "Our performance factor is one of the highest in the entire airline industry although our company operates in some of the nation's most brutal winter areas."

Tree Stock Demand Shows Drop in 1961

Reforestation Continues Above Normal Level

Post-Crescent Mason Bureau

MADISON — Demand for forest tree planting stock from the state forest nurseries has declined during the last year, but total distribution of tree seedlings for reforestation continues at a higher level than normal.

Principal cause for the reduction of demand for forest planting stock was the suspension of contracts a year ago between the U.S. department of agriculture and private land-owners for new entries in the government soil bank program, state conservation department officials said.

In preparation for that program of encouraging farm owners of surplus lands to put them into trees and other non-food crops, the department had rapidly expanded its nursery production capacity to about 40,000 seedlings and transplant trees yearly.

This year with a lessened demand from farmers, sales with meet Jan. 9, and a KYO and guest meet Feb. 6.

During December the youth group will sell Christmas wreaths as a money-making project.

Winter camp is scheduled for Jan. 18 through 20. The organization has asked parents of members to volunteer as drivers and chaperones.

in Wisconsin dropped to about 31,500 trees.

Large quantities of surplus stock were sold to the U.S. government tree nurseries, but now the department is planning a cut-back of production for next year and succeeding seasons.

Part of the expansion was accomplished through the employment of state prison and reformatory work crews during recent years. One or two of the half dozen nurseries are likely to be closed down.

The total distribution, nevertheless, remains higher than during the period before the soil bank planting demands, when the annual sales and plantings on state and county forests amounted to about 25,000,000. A gradual increase in yearly demand is expected, as more private land-owners join in reforestation work.

The 31,500,000 trees distributed this year were sufficient to re-plant about 31,000 acres of bare or marginal land.

Waupaca Pupil Chosen For Advanced Study

WAUPACA — A Waupaca High School student, Gerald Mangert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Mangert, route 1, has been selected to participate in a pilot study of advanced placement within the industrial graphics department of Stout State College, Menomonie.

Kenneth J. Erickson, instructor of industrial education at the college, said Mangert's selection indicates his training in graphics has been of a superior quality.

"We feel further that it is a reflection on the total tone of your school in all areas of instruction," the letter continued.

Rome Council Is Studying Languages

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Roman Catholic leaders examined anew today means of putting more inner vitality into the outer forms of Church life.

They continued their study of liturgy, or public worship, at the Vatican Ecumenical Council, turning specifically to the different language rites now used in the Church.

Latin is the liturgical language in the West. The East uses Greek, Syriac, Coptic, Armenian and Slavonic with the approval of the Holy See.

Greek Rite Today, for the first time, the council opened with a Mass celebrated according to an Eastern rite, the Greek Melchitic. The languages used were Greek and Syriac.

A spokesman said the 2,337 council fathers present in today's session examined all the language rites now used from a "theandric" viewpoint—how divine influence figures in the ritual.

The spokesman indicated the rites were not debated from a viewpoint of greater use for modern languages. Such a discussion is expected later. Many of the council fathers are known to favor a greater use of current languages in the liturgy.

In today's discussion, five cardinals spoke. Among them were Albert Gregory Cardinal Meyer, archbishop of Chicago.
